AGAIN DISCUSSING COUNTY COMMISSARY PLAN

Local Officials Confer On Relief Matters At Erie

Relief Work In Counties In Northwestern Part Of State To Be Aired

COMMISSARY PLAN WILL BE DISCUSSED

Efforts Are Being Made By State To Have Commissaries Take Over Work

County Commissioners P. O. Elder, Elmer Conners and F. R. Woods, together with employees of the County Relief headquarters, went to Erie this morning to attend a regional conference of county commissioners and relief workers. It is expected that nine counties in the Northwestern part of the state will be represented.

One of the matters of considerable local interest to be taken up will be a proposition to replace the present relief set-ups in the different counties with the State commissary plan. This plan would mean that in place of orders on local grocers being given out at relief headquarters, commissaries, or big stores, operated by the state department, would be established.

Storm Of Protest
The plan was originally advocated by Governor Pinchot, and commissaries were established in some places. The plan, however, met with a storm of protest from business men and others all over the state. At that time the merchants were subject to the tax levied for relief purposes. Their contention was that this tax was so small that it would not be added to each individual order, and as a result the whole fell on the merchant. With the (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Pa saw a car on North Mercer street yesterday with license plates from the District of Columbia—No. 1587. The plates are yellow and black.

With a 10 cent rate prevailing for nine holes play on all Mondays, excepting when a holiday falls upon Monday, golfing will show a decided upturn at the city course this year it is believed by the golf committee of the city.

In anticipation of the turf becoming good enough for play in the near future many golf bugs are practicing on a local indoor golf course. The practice is keeping many of the golfers in condition.

As soon as all obstacles are wiped out, providing they are employment will be given many men on the Croton avenue hillside stone wall. It is understood the city has yet to obtain a portion of ground before the work can proceed.

Beware the April Fool! Only four more days and he will be in our midst. Many harmless pranks will no doubt be played, but the practical joker who resorts to vicious practices to gain a laugh, should be shunned.

If the weather follows along the line of previous weeks, we should have no more wintry weather after this week. Of course there will be raw, chilly days, and perhaps some frosty mornings, but there is little likelihood of another spell like we had over the week end.

More Rain In March This Year Than During Record Flood Of 1913

Statements made yesterday by Lewis E. Staley, chairman of the State Power and Water Resources Board, that the uncompleted Pymatuning dam saved the Shenango Valley from another disastrous flood, similar to that in 1913, are corroborated by B. F. Johnson, local United States Weather Observer.

Mr. Johnson states that the precipitation for March this year was greater than in 1913, when the great flood occurred. Twenty years ago in March, the downpour equalled 5.10 inches in March, while this year so far, it has been 5.15 inches. The normal precipitation for March is but 2.75 inches.

However, conditions for a flood were a little better in 1913 than this year. The precipitation during January and February and March amounted to 12 inches, the greater part of which was snow which laid in the Pymatuning area, and melted rapidly when the rain started falling. The normal precipitation for these three months is 8.07 inches. So far this year, a slight deficiency in precipitation has been shown, amounting to 7.65 inches to date.

GIANT BRITISH PLANE IN CRASH; FEAR 15 KILLED

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)
DIXMUDE, Belgium, Mar. 28.—A giant British passenger and cargo plane crashed to earth near here during a severe storm today with a probable loss of fifteen lives.

The plane, owned and operated by the Imperial Airways, Ltd., was enroute from Brussels to London.

The huge tri-motored craft left Haran Field, Brussels at 1:36 p. m. carrying twelve passengers and a crew of three, including a pilot mechanic and radio operator.

As the plane roared over Lesens in a heavy storm, peasants in the field noticed it was in difficulty. When less than two miles from Dixmude, the ship began to lose altitude steadily.

One Leaps In Parachute.
One person was seen to jump from the descending plane with a parachute.

The parachute failed to open and the victim plunged like a plummet to death.

Shortly afterward, the plane fell to earth with a terrific crash. Peasants from the surrounding countryside rushed to the scene, while ambulances carrying doctors and nurses were sent out from Dixmude.

It was feared, however, that the entire complement of passengers and crew had been killed.

Plane Bursts Into Flame.
The plane was one of the giant craft, equipped with engines developing a total of 1200 horsepower, used for regular service between London and other continental cities.

The crash occurred a little over an hour after the plane set out from Brussels.

The plane burst into flames as it crashed. Peasants and rural gendarmes from a nearby village managed to reach the blazing craft in time to extricate the charred bodies of the pilot, mechanic and four passengers, including one woman. The heat of the flames drove them back before they could continue the search.

Little hope was held out, however, that anyone aboard the plane escaped with his life.

LONDON, Mar. 28.—"The City of Liverpool" was the name of the Imperial Airways plane which crashed near Dixmude, Belgium, today while enroute here from Brussels.

Future Plans Of Mrs. Walker Are Not Made Public

Divorced Wife Of Former New York Mayor Will Likely Stay In Florida

(International News Service)
MIAMI, Fla., Mar. 28.—Future plans of Mrs. Janet Allen Walker, who yesterday obtained a divorce from former Mayor James J. Walker, of New York, were uncertain today.

Mrs. Walker was granted a final decree by Judge Worth W. Trammell in Dade county circuit court yesterday afternoon after Walker's counsel agreed to waive the necessary 10-day wait necessary before a master in chancery's report may be acted upon.

The divorce ended 21 years of marriage. It was granted on grounds of desertion.

Roy Evans, Gardner Stop, admitted to the Jameson Memorial hospital for an operation on Monday, was reported to be resting as well as could be expected today.

Plan For Repeal Vote Forwarded To Gov. Pinchot

Drys Believe Governor Will Veto Measure For Convention Call

SENATE PASSES M'CLURE BILL

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Mar. 28.—Pennsylvania's General Assembly sent to Gov. Gifford Pinchot today the McClure bill providing a method for the state to pass upon proposed repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. Dry leaders predicted the governor will veto it.

The measure calls for the nomination of two slates of candidates by petition. One group will be committed to repeal and the other for retention of the prohibition amendment. Votes would elect the delegates in November, one to be named from each of the 24 congressional districts and 17 at large. The successful candidates would convene within 28 days and cast their votes.

Objections of the dries to the delegates-at-large provision. They demand that the delegates be elected solely from the state's 208 legislative districts. Senate concurrence last night in minor amendments made by the House completed legislative action on the bill.

Director of streets Stanley Treser stated today that department trucks and employees are ashing dirt streets today.

Will Rush Bill To Control Sales Of Beer In State

Measure Is Planned To Divorce Beer Sale Control From Politics

MUST SPEED ACTION BEFORE APRIL 7

Report Administration And Legislature Agreed On Support Of Measure

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Mar. 28.—A coalition beer control bill, drafted by the administration and purported to have the support of all political factions, was slated for introduction in the House today.

Assurance that the regulatory legislation would be presented for immediate consideration came from Gov. Gifford Pinchot. Encouraged by the favorable manner in which both dries and wets received his proposals, the governor stated he would place a tentative draft of the proposal before leading senators and representatives this morning.

"If they approve the provisions of the bill, it will be introduced at once," the governor stated. "By presenting the measure today we can enact it into law and get control over the manufacture and sale of beer on April 7."

Contents Not Revealed
Although the chief executive declined to reveal its provisions, he made it clear that the saloon would not be permitted and that beer control would be absolutely divorced from politics. It was generally agreed at a conference with wet and dry (Continued On Page Two)

Hitler Regime Faces Trouble

May Be Breakdown Of Nazi Nationalist Bloc It Is Feared

PLAN REPRISALS IF BOYCOTT STARTS

By EDWARD L. DEUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Mar. 28.—With the air cleared for an anti-Jewish reprisal boycott, Chancellor Adolf Hitler's government today faced a possible breakdown of the Nazi-Nationalist bloc on which it was built.

Members of the Nationalist party, heavily outnumbering the Nazis in Hitler's cabinet, appeared against dissolution of Steel Helmet organizations in the State of Brunswick.

This event was viewed as the first sign of trouble between the Nazis and their recent Nationalist allies, supporters of the Steel Helmets.

Protest Is Made
Minister of Labor Franz Seldte, leader of the militant Nationalist organization, made immediate representations to Capt. Hermann Goering, Nazi minister without portfolio, in which he protested against action of the Nazi commissary of Brunswick in banning the Steel Helmets there.

Goering said he would make an immediate investigation of the ban on the Steel Helmets, which resulted from alleged friendliness of Steel Helmets toward Communists.

More than 1250 persons were arrested in connection with the state-wide dissolution order, and similar action was expected at Hanover. Thousands of "Marxists" have joined the Steel Helmet organization. (Continued On Page Two)

Driver Fails To Halt Car At Signal Near Cascade Park

Crashes Into Flagman, Officer, And Another Automobile

Two persons, one of them a state highway patrolman, were injured Monday afternoon in East Washington street at the intersection of the entrance to the parking ground at Cascade park when struck by an auto operated by R. C. Cunningham, aged 80, R. D. 1, Ellwood City.

Both are in the Jameson Memorial hospital.

The Injured:
Corporal L. J. Lawton, aged 26, state highway patrol, West Grant street sub-station; injuries to his back.

Lawrence M. Clark, aged 38, R. D. 7, New Castle; two compound fractures of his right leg.

According to State Highway Patrolman Jack Cunningham, who investigated the accident, traffic in East Washington street, opposite Cascade park, was being operated "one way" at intervals, as a steam shovel was on the highway near the lower entrance to the park. It had previously been at work, it is said, near the entrance to the parking ground.

Kline To Stay In Office For Few Days Yet

Mayor Kline Cannot Resign Until Council Meets In Regular Session

JOHN S. HERRON TO BE SUCCESSOR

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Mar. 28.—Delay of several days in the resignation of Mayor Charles H. Kline was forecast today by interpretation of the city charter that the withdrawal can be presented only at a city council meeting.

Kline, ousted from office for his conviction of a misdemeanor, was expected to resign today but only a council committee meeting is slated for this afternoon. The mayor's counsel, however, said he would abdicate at the first regular council session.

John S. Herron, council president, will assume the mayoralty for 30 days after Kline's resignation, at which time council will meet to elect a mayor to fill the unexpired term.

Simplex Battery Company Plant Fire Loss Estimated At $50,000

FIREMEN UNABLE TO REACH BUILDING

Cause Of Fire Uncertain—Only Part Of Loss Is Covered By Insurance

Fire thought to have been caused by sparks in a pile of rags entirely destroyed the Simplex Battery Company plant beyond East New Castle Monday night at six o'clock with a resulting loss of approximately $50,000. About twenty per cent of the loss is covered by insurance.

The plant was located along the B. R. & P. tracks beyond the plant of the National Radiator Company and it was impossible to get fire equipment to it. Even had this been possible, it is doubtful if anything could have been saved. When the New Castle fire department got to the scene, the asphaltum composition of the second floor, with rubber battery cases, and a 10,000 gallon tank of chemicals were ablaze and the flames rolled up 100 feet (Continued On Page Two)

But to the lads who race each year it is no matter for a chuckle, and so each spring they spurt along and in the gardening harness buckle. There is no malice in their race, they want to be the first to say, "here's ripe tomatoes that I picked" the weather's forty three today.

WORLD COURT PROPOSAL DISTURBS SENATE

Roosevelt's Move Arouses Senate

Proposal For World Court Ratification Brings Varied Reaction

PARTY LEADERS SEEM PUZZLED

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Mar. 28.—Administration leaders of Congress intent on hastening enactment of President Roosevelt's economic relief program, were highly disturbed today by his proposal for Senate ratification of the world court protocol at the present session.

The president's advisers were well aware that Senate action on the world court protocol, with its international complications, would delay consideration of all legislative matters for weeks. They preferred to postpone world court debate until the next regular session of Congress, so the present special session may be devoted exclusively to emergency legislation.

Mr. Roosevelt urged ratification upon the conditions laid down by the Senate foreign relations committee last June. He did this in accord with the Democratic platform, which recommended ratification of the "pending reservations." The latter include the famous fifth reservation, which was the keynote of American adherence in 1926 and which a dozen European nations rejected.

The old irreconcilables, who oppose American entry into the court on any and all terms, feared a "trick" lay behind the president's unexpected proposal for immediate action. They realized the resolution of adherence, adopted by the committee last June, with the fifth reservation included, died at the end of the old Congress. Fresh action would leave the Senate free to abandon the fifth reservation and accept adherence on the terms of the so-called root protocol.

The threat referred to was the announcement yesterday that the Nazi party would conduct a counter boycott against Jewish business concerns in Germany if Jews in the United States and elsewhere continued the "atrocity propaganda."

Warn Of Retaliations

BERLIN, Mar. 28.—A sharp warning of the retaliations that will follow a boycott of German goods in foreign countries was sounded today by the Nazi newspaper Der Angriff. ## Delay Action On School Changes

First Measure Before State Legislature Is Voted Down

RECONSIDERATION BEING PLANNED

By ROBERT F. GORMAN

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Mar. 28.—Assembly leaders supporting a group of bills providing for changes in Pennsylvania school laws hastily canvassed the house membership today in a drive to avert the disaster which threatened the series of emergency measures.

A barrage of negative votes last night smothered the first bill in the series. It would permit reductions in teachers' salaries. The vote was 88 for passage and 113 against. With the defeat of the first bill, Rep. Thomas B. Wilson, McKean, the sponsor, sent the other five measures of the series under cover. They appeared on the postponed calendar today.

Wilson changed his vote to "no" on the bill last night and thus placed himself in a position under the rules to move for reconsideration of the house vote. It was understood that supporters of the measure planned thereby to put the mechanics of legislation into reverse and get the defeated bill back to committee where changes can be made to meet the objections of opponents.

The house was determined to support the teachers and notwithstanding the budget cuts and appropriations reductions members refused to authorize the slashing of school salaries.

School law changes provided in the other five Wilson bills include reductions in the state payments to districts and slashes in the salaries of county superintendents and appropriations for the transportation of pupils.

FLAMES DESTROY EAST NEW CASTLE PLANT LAST NIGHT

high. With this was a pall of greasy black smoke that could be seen for miles.

The fire was one of the most spectacular seen in years. The roar of the flames as they licked their way through wood and rubber coupled with the crashing of the concrete block walls as they collapsed from the heat made a spectacle that has not been equalled in a long time.

The fire was first discovered by John O. Bockius, the night watchman. E. D. Hawk, the manager of the plant had gone home for dinner a little after 5:30 and Mr. Bockius noticed the flames about twenty minutes or half an hour later.

There is no telephone in the plant and he had to run four or five hundred yards to get to a telephone. When he got back the plant was ablaze from end to end and there never was a chance to save it.

Mr. Hawk was at the First United Presbyterian church where he is the scoutmaster of the Boy Scout troop that church and knew nothing of the fire until about eight o'clock. When he got out there the plant had left two hours before, was a mass of blazing embers.

Owned Building.

The Simplex Battery Company is the outgrowth of the old Hawk Battery Company started some years ago by E. D. Hawk. He came to New Castle after many years as a battery builder for one of the larger battery companies and started the plant in a small way. Later he moved the equipment to another city where the plant was consolidated with another small plant, but after a year returned to New Castle.

He then incorporated the Simplex Battery Company and made several types of automobile batteries which were becoming increasingly popular with the automotive public. His orders exceeded the ability of his organization to produce them and many carloads of batteries were refused because of the size of the plant personnel. Gradually the force and equipment were being expanded and the indications for the future were most promising.

Only about ten men were working at the present time due to a slack season and the bank situation which tied up funds for the company and made turnover slower. In anticipation of better business a new engine had been installed in the plant and a new boiler was not quite finished. On Monday the workmen had been covering the boiler with asbestos and had but little left to do at the close of the day.

Large Block Plant

In size the plant was 200 feet long

by 100 feet wide with about fifty feet on one end two stories in height, the rest of the plant being one story. All of it was of concrete block construction. Originally the plant was used by a building block company.

I have no idea what started the blaze," said Mr. Hawk Monday night. "When I left there everything seemed to be in good order and Mr. Bockius the night watchman was on the job. It is possible that a backfire from an automobile leaving the plant might have ignited a pile of rags in the corner, or there may have been a match dropped. We had kept our autos inside the building, near the spot where these rags were stored."

The second story of the two story end of the building was used for an office and a laboratory. We had a 10,000 gallon tank of chemicals stored there for use in making batteries. In another corner there was about half a drum of naphtha. The floor of the second story was of asphaltum composition, about two inches thick. It is possible of course, but highly improbable in my mind that the chemicals could have leaked out and started the blaze."

"The machinery, tools, and stock on hand represents about $30,000, while we carried the building at $20,000. The loss was not always at work in all parts of it. The working machinery was in the end farthest from the office end, and the forms, trays and battery making equipment were on the first floor."

Plans Indefinite

"I have no idea what our plans for the future will be. With the embers still burning out there we were approached by representatives from another city to locate the plant there. What we will do I do not know as I have not yet talked to my associates and of course can not say what will be done."

For several hours after the fire broke out the East Side was a traffic jam. Cars streamed out East Washington street, several thousand pedestrians made their way on foot through the plant, and for a time it was thought that the Radiator plant was on fire.

At least one automobile was entirely wrecked on East Washington street in the traffic jam, a small boy fell headlong from the B. R. & P. trestle crossing the small brook dividing the radiator property from the battery plant.

Only a "guardian angel" saved a hundred or more small boys and many adults from serious injury when the north wall of the two story end of the plant collapsed. They were standing in gondolas on the tracks at the side of the plant, too close to the blaze for safety when suddenly the wall let go, headed for the gondolas.

Alarm For Moment

Fortunately the height of that portion of the wall that fell did not quite reach the gondolas for with it fell flaming embers, crumbling blocks and a shower of dust. For a moment the gondolas were blotted from view and shrieks of alarm went up from women and men who were at the scene. The cloud of smoke and dust cleared and the boys and men had missed disaster by inches.

Two cars on the siding were partly burned, and several others saved by a group of men who shoved the cars down the tracks out of the line of the blazing plant. Firemen extinguished the blaze on the two cars burned and a little later Terminal Trainmaster Jack Thomas of the B. & O. had a crew of men out and hauled the cars away.

Guard Radiator Plant

Fortunately there was no wind blowing, otherwise the Radiator plant might have been ignited. The heat of the blazing plant was such that bystanders could not go within a hundred feet of it for a long time. Firemen stood by, unable to render assistance, but prepared to go into action on the other side of the Big Run if the Radiator plant ignited.

The plant was a complete loss, only stubs of the walls sticking up in odd places.

Work had just been completed yesterday on installing a new boiler at the plant, and only last fall, some additional new machinery had been purchased.

Included in the loss was all of Mr. Hawk's drawings and tracings and a set of valuable technical books.

When operations were going on last fall, a half ton of clean cotton rags was purchased, which had been stored in the southeast corner of the building, near the spot where the fire was first discovered, and Mr. Hawk believes that a spark may have been blown into the pile of rags by the exhaust from the automobiles as they speeded up their engines before starting out. He scouted the idea of spontaneous combustion, as the rags were clean ones, and dry.

He stated that he had been at the plant when the fire started that he might have been able to get water onto the blaze, as he knew how to do it.

City firemen were able to prevent the blaze from communicating to four box cars along the B. R. & P. branch of the B. and O. railroad, extinguishing sparks which fell on the cars with soda and acid extinguishers.

When they arrived on the scene, the plant was all in flames, however, and they were powerless to render any effective aid in extinguishing the blaze in the factory building itself.

Reports Boys Throw Stones At Automobile

Henry Newton of Ellwood City R. D. No. 1, complained to the police last night that as he was passing at the intersection of South Jefferson street and Terrace avenue, that snowballs containing rocks had been hurled at his car. The police visited the scene and rounded up six boys. Their names and addresses were taken, but as they could not be positively identified, they were allowed to go with a warning that when caught again, they might expect to be punished.

Deaths of the Day

Thayer Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. Jane Smith Thayer, wife of Lauren H. Thayer, of 323 Lincoln avenue, who passed away in the Jameson Memorial hospital Monday morning at 11:40, following a short illness, will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 from the late home, with Dr. Walter E. McClure, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and Rev. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, in charge. Burial will be in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Thayer was born in Youngstown, O., May 8, 1902, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Smith, coming here with her parents in 1908. She attended the public schools of New Castle, graduating in the class of 1920. The following year, she attended Oberlin Conservatory of Music, and Peabody Institute of Music in Baltimore, the succeeding year.

She was married December 31, 1923, to Lauren H. Thayer, who with a daughter, Peggy, and her parents, survive.

Following their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Thayer resided in Cleveland for two years, and then removed to Philadelphia, where Mr. Thayer completed his education in advanced architectural design, returning to New Castle in June, 1927, where they had since resided.

Mrs. Thayer was a member of the First Presbyterian church. She was very popular among the younger people of the city, and her death is a cause of sorrow among a large circle of friends.

W. Harry Young.

W. Harry Young, aged 49, New Galilee, died suddenly in his home some time during the night Tuesday. Mr. Young retired Monday evening, seemingly in his usual good health, and about 6 o'clock this morning when his mother went to wake him, she found he had passed away during the night.

Mr. Young was widely known throughout the community, having been engaged in the insurance business. He was a member of the Reformed Presbyterian church of New Galilee.

He is survived by a daughter, Melrose Young; his mother, Mrs. I. G. Young, two sisters, Margaret and Edna Young; and three brothers: Rutherford, Glenn and Kenneth Young.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. from the family home, near Hays Crossing, and interment will be made in the Reformed Presbyterian cemetery at New Galilee.

Fred Rigby.

Word has been received in the city of the death of Fred Rigby in California. The letter telling of his death came from his brother, Orville Rigby, Miami, Fla., but he gave no details.

Fred Rigby was the son of James and Priscilla Masonheimer Rigby and resided on Pearson street, this city for many years, and will be remembered by a number of persons here.

There are a number of relatives living here.

Mrs. Emily Taylor.

Mrs. Emily Taylor, aged 69, wife of James Taylor, 717 East Long avenue, died at her home this morning at 6 a. m. following an illness of complications.

Mrs. Taylor was born in Wales, March 28, 1864, the daughter of William and Anna Evans and had been a resident of this city the past thirty-five years. She was a member of the First Congregational church.

Surviving are her husband; six sons: Philip, Samuel, David, Ivor, Edgar and Brindley; a daughter, Mrs. Harry Price, and two brothers, Thomas Evans and Evan Evans, both of Wales. She was preceded in death by two children.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2:30 p. m. from the residence, 717 East Long avenue, with Rev. Rees T. Williams officiating. Interment will be made in Graceland cemetery.

Mrs. Christina Iorio.

Mrs. Christina Iorio, aged 59, wife of Joseph Iorio, Harbor Bridge, Neshannock township, died Monday at 10:10 a. m. in her home after an illness of one year.

She was born in Italy, January 8, 1874, the daughter of Angelo and Teresa Cook and had been a resident of Lawrence county the past twenty-five years. She was a member of St. Lucy's church.

She is survived by her husband; three daughters: Mrs. Jennie Yanucci, Teresa and Susie, at home; five sons: Tony, Mike, Louie, Pat, Cook, and Frank Iorio; a brother, Tony Cook, Chelton and one sister, Mrs. Phoebe Masters, Seattle, Wash.

Funeral services will be held

Thursday at 10 a. m. from St. Lucy's church and interment will be made in St. Lucy's cemetery.

Mrs. Isaac Jones.

Mrs. Margaret M. Jones, wife of Isaac M. Jones of Muddy Creek township, Butler county near Portersville, died this morning about 8 o'clock in the New Castle hospital, following an illness of about a week due to an abscess at the base of the brain.

Mrs. Jones was born near Portersville and was 64 years of age. She had been a lifelong resident of the district in which she was born and was widely known and highly esteemed.

She leaves her husband, one son, Clarence Hoover of Portersville and one sister, Mrs. George Miller of Portersville Station.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

LOCAL OFFICIALS CONFER ON RELIEF MATTERS AT ERIE

commissary plan they would still be subject to this tax to help pay for groceries and goods that were being dispensed by commissaries in competition with their business.

Commissioners of Lawrence county have not indicated what attitude they are likely to take on the proposition to have commissaries take over the work of the relief department. In this county it is contended that the work has been as economically handled as anywhere in the state.

County Cost Heavy

But with all the economy the salary list for help has increased to such an extent that it is now costing Lawrence county about $800 per month, exclusive of the salary of the poor director. If the work is taken over by the state commissary the state would pay this help. It is claimed that it would eliminate all salaries paid by the county with the exception of the poor director and one clerk. This it is contended, would be quite a saving to the county.

At present the state is furnishing the money for groceries, milk, part of the fuel and part of the shoes. It is claimed that if the commissary is established the money for all these branches will come through the state as well as the pay for the help.

While the state now furnishes money as outlined above, the county must pay for the help. This includes help in running the relief offices, investigators in the relief department, distributors of the milk and a clerk in the office of the relief head named by the state.

At the meeting to be held at Erie today it is understood that a number of state men who are familiar with the commissary plan will make addresses in which the details will be given. Of course if the state pays the salary list now paid by Lawrence county, this county also pays its share toward the state expenses, but it is claimed that it would be a small item in comparison with the amount now being expended in salaries.

The plan will meet with much opposition on the part of local merchants. They claim that they have been furnishing supplies at a very small percentage of profit, and that in times like the present, business should be distributed in the local community.

Time of Funeral.

Funeral services for Miss Minnie Casciato of 124 Carlisle place will be held Thursday morning at 9:30 in St. Vitus church. Interment will be made in St. Vitus cemetery.

Train and enginemen on electrified railroads must leave their watches at the jeweler's every so often to be demagnetized.

WILL RUSH BILL TO CONTROL SALES OF BEER IN STATE

leaders, that the beverage should be sold at all stores, hotels and restaurants or places serving food. All sales would be made under a license and tax system.

Conferees recommended that the license fees go to counties and the tax would be retained by the state. Although it has not been announced who will issue licenses, the governor indicated that power would be invested in the Department of Revenue. He supports this method in preference to a commission or county judges.

The plan will meet with much opposition on the part of local merchants. They claim that they have been furnishing supplies at a very small percentage of profit, and that in times like the present, business should be distributed in the local community.

One of these unmistakable indications was the belligerent attitude of Rep. Clinton A. Sowers, Philadelphia, who remarked as he left the executive's office:

"The governor has placed such a high collar on beer that it will choke the working man. I intend to knock that collar off."

Governor Pinchot admitted: "The matter of putting the bill through the legislature before April 7 was thoroughly discussed but no definite agreement was reached."

FIRST AID CLASS HEARS ADDRESS

Dr. E. F. Henderson was the principal speaker at the Home Economics department room, Pennsylvania Power system building last night, where approximately 25 employees of the company's offices received their eighth lesson in first aid work.

Dr. Henderson explained the causes and told the students how to treat unconscious persons. After two more lessons examinations will be held and those who pass will receive Red Cross First Aid certificates.

OFFICERS INSTALLED FOR EASTERN STAR

New Castle Chapter 105, Order of the Eastern Star, held its annual banquet for the outgoing worthy matron and incoming matron Monday evening in the west dining room of the Cathedral, with places arranged at the long tables for two hundred and fifty.

The choir, which is led by Mary Harvard and accompanied by Mrs. Anna Moore Pyle, were guests and their table was handsomely centered with flowers in the prevailing shades and each place was marked with a favor.

The table decorations, combined with the handsome gowns of the women, made a most gorgeous scene as all sat down to a delicious menu, served by the Queen Esthers of the First Methodist church.

The guests included the District Deputy Grand Matron, Mrs. Carolyn Lindsey, grand officers and members of the order from many out of town places.

Mrs. Birdie Sturdy, Pittsburgh, past matron of the chapter, inducted Miss Gertrude Potter as worthy matron, Henry Jackson as worthy patron, and the remaining corps of officers.

At the close of the evening, Miss Katherine Elder, dressed as a little girl, came in to the room, and cleverly presented the retiring matron and other visiting dignitaries with gifts, and following her came an Easter card, with Charles Sanky, dressed as a rabbit, pulling the cart and little Lois Jones as the driver, and as they came to the place of Mrs. Marguerite Carey, retiring matron, they stopped, and on behalf of the retiring officers, Mrs. Doris Sankey presented Mrs. Geary with a handsome leather fitted traveling case.

W. C. B. CLASS HONORS CHARTER MEMBERS

Most successful as well as enjoyable was the surprise party held by members of the W. C. B. class of the Wesley M. E. church on Monday evening honoring two of the oldest charter members of the class, namely, Mrs. Albert Rote and Mrs. Barbara Griddle, and also celebrated the birthday anniversary of the former.

The hours were spent with guessing contests and other diversions. A feature was the vocal duet rendered by Mesdames Pelsaw and William Dibley.

At an appropriate time the guests of honor were presented with lovely tokens in remembrance of the occasion.

Refreshments were later served by Mrs. Dibley, Mrs. James Birt, Mrs. John Mottinger and Mrs. R. G. Leslie.

Special guests who participated included Mrs. Ada Womer of Akron, O., and Mrs. Elmer Beight, this city.

YUCATAN CLUB GUESTS AT LOVE RESIDENCE

A delightful social event of Monday evening was the gathering of the Yucatan club members in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Love, North Jefferson street who entertained informally. Thirty-five participated including the following special guests, Mr. and Mrs. William Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Quincy McBride, Miss Mollie Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Drake, Mrs. C. S. Royce and Roy Shira.

The hours were devoted to various cards contests and at the close of this feature all adjourned to the dining room where an elaborate lunch was served.

Plans were formulated for the next meeting to be held at The Castleton in the form of a 6 o'clock dinner, on April 10.

Ministers' Wives Meet

Mrs. S. E. Irvine, Highland avenue, entertained the members of the Ministers' Wives' club in her home Monday evening for the monthly get-together.

Mrs. A. J. Randles of Pittsburgh, a former member of the club, was a special guest.

Music and an informal good time featured the evening and refreshments were served by the hostess.

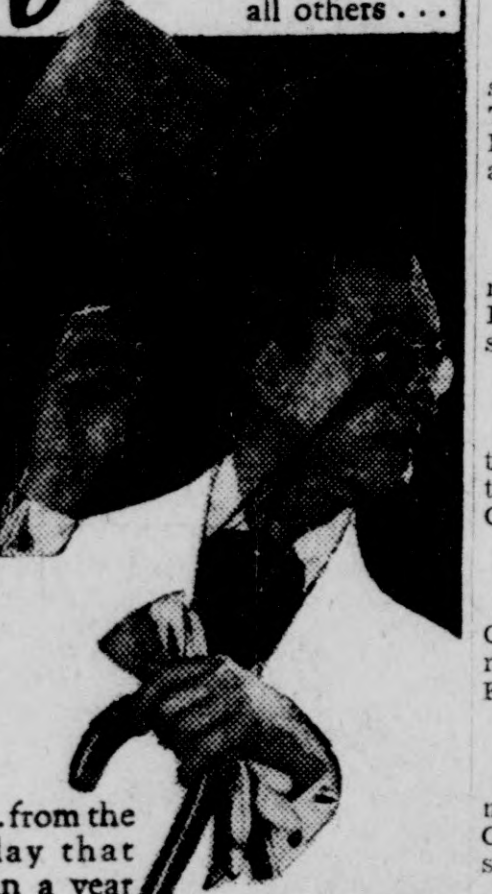

Mrs. R. B. Withers, Albert street, will be hostess for the April meeting.

1913 CLASS MEETS ON REUNION PLANS

Members of the Class of 1913, of the New Castle high school, held a meeting in the home of Mrs. Grace Blackford Hulme, of Edgewood avenue, when plans were projected for the 20th annual reunion of the class.

Mrs. Myfanwy Williams McNeill was elected president of the class for the coming year, and Mrs. Alice McCreary, Rentz, vice-president.

It is tentatively planned to hold the 20th anniversary reunion in the form of an all day picnic, on Friday, June 9. Committees to complete the arrangements will be announced by Mrs. McNeill later.

THE READING CIRCLE PROGRAM INTERESTING

Mrs. I. M. Henley was hostess Monday afternoon to members of The Reading Circle at her home on Centennial street. A large attendance marked this gathering, and during the routine business period it was announced that this group would preside as hostesses at the May meeting of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's Clubs.

An interesting program followed and centered on "Scientific Advancement". Splendid papers were given on "Radio" by Mrs. John Savoline; "Aeronautics", by Mrs. Laura Parker; and the concluding article was on "Agriculture" by Mrs. R. R. McCreary.

On April 10 Mrs. Bart Richards, East Washington street, will receive members in her home.

ANNUAL PARTY PLANS COMPLETE FOR TONIGHT

The various committees of the Woman's club who are aiding in the annual bridge party and style revue this evening in the New Castle Dry Goods store have all plans completed and it is expected this will be one of the largest events of the early spring season.

Bridge will feature the early hours of the evening and models from the club membership will display the spring creations for milady.

Daughters of Lydia

Mrs. William Glasser of 508 Neshannock boulevard, was a charming hostess to the Daughters of Lydia of the First Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. John Butz led the devotional period.

Mrs. Charles McCreary gave an excellent paper on "Japan". Mrs. Edwin Davis pleased her listeners with a paper on the subject "Portugal in America". Mrs. Davis also sang two lovely songs.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Glasser, Mrs. John Butz, Mrs. Albert Street, Mrs. Charles McCreary, Mrs. Edwin J. Davis.

On Saturday afternoon, April 29, the Daughters of Lydia will meet at the home of Mrs. John Madigan at Walmo.

Aid-A-Gi Club

The weekly meeting of Aid-A-Gi club took place Monday night at the home of Miss Ruth Markley, 116 South Mill street. The evening passed pleasantly with sewing for the Margaret Henry home and with conversation. Further plans of the club activities were discussed.

At a convenient hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Maurice Markley. The two teams of the club will play basketball at the Y gym Wednesday evening at seven o'clock. The next regular meeting will be at the home of Miss Tillie Solomon, Pollock avenue.

N. B. Club Dinner Party

The N. B. club members were received in the home of Mrs. David Fisher, Chestnut street, on Monday evening when she entertained at a chicken dinner. A sumptuous menu was served at 6 o'clock at a prettily appointed table, and following cards contests were enjoyed. Prizes for honors were won by Mrs. Joe Campbell, Mrs. Agnes Selleck and Dorothy Clark.

In two weeks Mrs. Bernice Hamul of Huey street will have the club at her residence.

Newlyweds to Return

Mrs. Frank L. Doerr, of Croton avenue, received word today that her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Locke, a bride and groom of this winter, who have been spending their honeymoon in California, will return home tomorrow. They were in the earthquake zone in Long Beach, but escaped without injury.

LOCAL JR. HADASSAH GETS REGIONAL HONORS

The Junior Hadassah Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio Regional organization held their annual conference in Stuebenville, Ohio, March 25-26 and those representing New Castle were Misses Mary Pittler, president, Rheba Frank and Ina Rosenberg.

On Saturday afternoon at 3:30 the Regional President's tea was held with the Stuebenville group presiding as hostesses in the home of one of its members. The morning session took place in the conference rooms of the Port Stuben hotel when Miss Frank, Miss Pittler and Miss Rosenberg took part in reports.

In the account given by Miss Jeanne Levinson of Pittsburgh, Young Judea Regional chairman she especially signalled out New Castle as having one of the most intellectual groups of children in its Young Judea club and also, being one of the most progressive in this district.

The local unit was given the prize for having the highest percentage of new and paid up members in the entire district of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio Junior Hadassah. Miss Pittler as president accepted in behalf of the New Castle organization from Miss Flora Snyder, Pittsburgh, who made the presentation.

Other events took place including a luncheon. As guest speaker they had Attorney Leo Shapiro of Pittsburgh who chose for his subject "The Political Status of Palestine".

During the election of officers, Miss Rheba Frank was given the distinction as being chosen first vice-president. Junior Hadassah Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio Regional organization.

CASTLE HILLS CLUB STAG HELD MONDAY

The Castle Hills club entertained at their usual stag party on Monday evening in their social rooms. Cards were featured, and winners in contract bridge were won by Harold McBride, Herman Knoch, John Connelly and J. B. Foster. In auction, prizes went to Ed. Connelly and Walter DeArment. Lunch was served at a late hour.

In two weeks there will be another party of this nature, and a change in the form of entertainment is announced.

THE ROLE OF "BOSS".
A husband may not object to his wife assuming the role of boss in their home but even the meekest man is displeased when his wife becomes dictatorial outside the home and in the presence of others.

The wife who commands in the home is likely to carry the same manner with her wherever she and her husband go together. Now every man wants to be thought the head of his household. He may not emphasize this position to others or even desire to do so, but he certainly wants it to be generally understood that he is the "king fish."

But there is little he can say or do in public to offset a wrong impression that his wife may create. Especially is this true if he wishes to retain his position as a gentleman.

However, it is more than likely that when they are alone after humiliations by a bossy wife, friend husband may explode orally and there may be some fireworks. And can the man be blamed? Whatever a wife may be able to do at home she should be tactful enough to treat her husband in public in a way to command respect for him, not lessen it.

She should do everything in her power to build him up and encourage him.

PROFITS IN BRIDGES.

There is a toll bridge over the River Ouse at Selby, England, which has levied tribute for 140 years. Even pedestrians have to pay a half-penny every time they cross it—unless they are townspeople, when the half-penny buys a "season ticket" for a day. A new effort is again to be made to free it.

But freeing a toll bridge is an expensive business. When Gainsborough Bridge, across the Trent, was freed recently, the price paid was 130,000 pounds. And the bridge originally cost 12,000 pounds.

The English also know how to profiteer.

WINTER'S MORATORIUM.
It's getting on to spring my friend. So let us not be wholly glum. In but a few brief days will end Harsh winter's moratorium.

The tulips through the earth will sprout
To blossom gayly white and red,
And notwithstanding care and doubt
New blooms will grace the pansy bed.

Old Winter bade the roses cease
Their lovely payments for a time,
But spring 'neath bonds will soon release;
On fence and wall will ramblers climb.

The trees their purpose will resume
The sun will drive away the cold,
And there will be a wealth of bloom
Of hollyhocks and marigold.

NEVER HAPPENED BEFORE
In the turnover of last November's national election many remarkable things occurred.

Probably nothing more unprecedented has ever occurred in politics than that the election will bring a bride to membership in the national house of representatives. This is what happened. Miss

During her campaign she became acquainted with David M. McCarthy, then a state senator, who showed her many courtesies, aided in her election, fell in love with her and married her.

Now Miss O'Laughlin goes to congress as Congresswoman McCarthy. Nothing like that ever happened before in all the history of the country's elections.

"Darling, I've bought you this fur coat. Like it?"

What most girls would have said, we don't know. But this one didn't seem pleased. "It's—it's lovely—but how can I wear it? Where am I going to tell my husband I got it? How—"

"Couldn't you tell him you found it?"

"No... but I'll tell you what... you pawn it."

"Hock this coat?"

"Yes. And give me the ticket. And I'll tell my husband I found it and maybe it's something valuable, and will he go down and see what it is. Now, don't you think your girl friend's smart?"

The conversation is actual. This is a true story. The lady is the wife of a winter visitor in Florida, the gentleman whose acquaintance with the couple bloomed into an affinity for the wife. It's just one of those romances brought on by the Florida moon.

But there was another angle to the triangle that these two didn't know about—the husband, too, had been absorbing moonlight. He had met the local man's secretary, and Cupid had scored another bull's-eye. Even for Miami the situation was a complicated one. Here's what happened.

The erring wife gave her hubby the pawn ticket, telling him she had found it. He went to the three-ball shop, saw the ticket was on an expensive fur coat. He decided something was up. He bought a pair of silver candlesticks. He returned to his wife with the candlesticks. "That ticket was on these," he said. And what could she say? Meanwhile the business man was astonished to see his secretary walk into the office wearing the coat. The husband had given it to his sweetie!

SIGNING YOUR NAME
Americans have the habit of signing their names. They enjoy the practice. It gives them a certain feeling of importance. It plays into the hands of high-powered salesmen, who are always equipped with nicely printed blanks. Put your signature on the dotted line. Never mind reading the fine print—just a formality. Later you may discover to your surprise what you promised to do or pay.

There is a story that one can be induced to sign a petition to hang his own brother. A Texas town gave a fresh twist to prove the gullibility and carelessness of individuals. A newspaper in Temple circulated a petition, in which the first paragraph urged Mr. Roosevelt to cut government expenses. A later paragraph asked him to appoint Giuseppe Zangara of the Miami jail, who attempted to kill the president-elect, to a place in the cabinet. Four hundred persons signed the petition. They had not read beyond the first few lines and they trusted the person who asked them to sign. That is another weakness of the average man—implicit faith, willing to believe what he is told.

The Texas experiment disclosed both these human fallibilities. It likewise was in bad taste and reflects no credit upon those who engineered the plan. It is probable the Texans caught in this net will be more careful in the future about their signatures. However, they would undoubtedly be glad to sign a petition asking that the party guilty of the hoax be boiled in oil.

Nature Fiction Made Fame For Connecticut Humorist

Death Of Louis T. Stone Arouses Recollections Of His Good-Natured Stories That Elevated A Small Town To High Rank As News Source

Winsted, a small community in Connecticut, is declared by the press of the nation to have shared the fame of Louis T. Stone, creator of famous humorous stories in the realm of the "nature fakes." This modest journalist, in death, receives tributes as the modern Munchausen, and worthy to be ranked with Mark Twain and other American humorists. The products of his imagination were distributed by telegraph, adding a unique feature to his life work.

"Even now," says the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION, "newspaper editors are half expectant of a special dispatch from the world beyond, signed by Louis Stone." That paper declares that his "nature fakes" made him "the most beloved liar of modern times," and that "he made Winsted famous far and wide." The HARTFORD TIMES states: "Mr. Stone had many friends and the respect and regard of the community. His years of work for the Winsted Evening Citizens, of which he became general manager, gave him an intimate and valued place in the life of eastern Litchfield county. After Danbury's Baily, Mr. Stone had carried an infectious mirth further across the continent than any other Connecticut newspaperman. His ability to ascertain and report the 'new, strange and startling' as occurring within hilly Connecticut's sight and hearing has not been surpassed, if ever it was equalled."

"As a young man," says the NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE, "he Winsted just another Connecticut town, and his fanciful tales did it nothing but good. Indeed, one Lou Stone in such a town may be well worth more than any number of chambers of commerce and boosters' clubs." The citizens of Winsted gave him much credit for developing the town and the adjoining section. He was pleasant, whimsical and remarkably well-informed. His stories, brief, straight-faced and with just the right restraint (some of them were terse as the Coolidge anecdotes), were so good that they gave the lie to the journalistic dictum: "There is no harmless fake."

Observing that he was called "the 20th Century Munchausen," the ROCKFORD REGISTER-REPUBLIC reviews his work with the statement: "Millions of American newspaper readers have chuckled over antics of Jim, Pete and Dick, the tunneling trio; the tree on which grew baked apples; the cow which gave ice cream after it had been accidentally locked in an ice house, and many other droll items written by Mr. Stone during the last 20 years. The taller and more impossible the tale, the more certain it emanated from Winsted. His little news fables were never intended to deceive. They were so obviously impossible that they left readers laughing. And that was their sole purpose. Mr. Stone received many tempting offers to go to larger fields of endeavor, but wisely he refused them all. He found happiness in Winsted; fame, and a fancy degree of fortune, too. There, in the region which he had known from boyhood, he obtained the inspiration to make a weary world pause occasionally and smile at his drolleries. And it is something of a major accomplishment in these troubled days to make restless millions laugh, even for a moment."

"He was a hard-working newspaper man who turned out the celebrated yarns in his spare moments," says the NEW ORLEANS TIMES-PICAYUNE, with the belief that "they were so cleverly conducted that casual readers swallowed them whole." "As Medicine Hat is famous or, if you please, notorious—as a weather breeder, so Winsted became noted as the center of weird events, the seat of mysterious and sometimes almost miraculous performances by men or beasts or even birds. In the middle nineties the story of Winsted's 'wild man' attracted wide attention and aroused the interest or curiosity of scientists and feature writers. At irregular intervals, through subsequent years, the country was told about Winsted's 'whistling cat' and its accurate rendition of 'Yankee Doodle' and other popular airs; about the Winsted hen that flew through the open bedroom window of its owner each morning, laid a fresh egg for his breakfast and then awakened him by its cackling; about the freak achievements of countless other Winsted fauna and flora."

"His output was harmless," according to the TOLEDO BLADE. "No human being could feel injury from the amusing stuff he wrote. It could be accepted as the product of a lively and amusing imagination. Stone was a good-natured liar."

The PROVIDENCE JOURNAL sees "a vacant chair in Winsted that will not be filled," and pays the tribute: "Intelligent and extremely well informed, he became a competent country editor who could write wisely as well as humorously, and he served his neighbors well. His death as a comparatively early age is to be regretted. The country will miss the Winsted citizen who invented the farmer who picked his hens for market with a vacuum cleaner, the three-legged bulldog and its gymnastics, the deaf and dumb pig, the bald-headed man who painted a spider on his bald spot to drive away the flies and the hen that laid red, white and blue eggs on the fourth of July."

"After all," thinks the SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) REPUBLICAN, "he fitted into the true tradition of American humor. For the essence of his yarns was their obvious exaggeration. The humor which is most characteristically American, and often incomprehensible to others, exaggeration is the very pitch and marrow." The CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER offers the estimate: "Stone visioned impossibilities beyond the imagination of less gifted men, gave them a plausible verbal setting, and delighted the newspaper readers of a nation. He tinged truth with an audacity worthy of Naugatuck Valley brass. But the humor was wholly delightful. Who can forget the hen that laid an egg on the cowcatcher of a speeding train, the shivering cow which yielded ice cream, its overly modest sister that refused to be milked by a man, the verdant green fish in Highland lake, which turned out to be a bold bed of ferns, the man who sprang upon a bass which had been spying upon a feminine bather and got tangled up in one of her stockings when it dropped in the water? Stone purveyed to a realistic modern age fine flights of fantastic fancy worthy of Bret Harte, Mark Twain and Artemus Ward."

Weekly Health Talk

"A Swiss physician, named Rollier, years ago discovered the healing value of the direct rays of the sun upon the bodies of tuberculous patients. With his hospital located high in the Alps, the treatment which was quite spartan because of its year-round application, was outstandingly successful. Consequently, with modifications, it is now used the world over in every tuberculosis sanatorium. Nevertheless, the fact that the sun's rays are known to possess healing power has caused in the aggregate literally millions of hours of suffering for many thousands of persons who, isolating the fact, without more ado subject themselves to painful sunburn at summer resorts. Unfortunately, this peculiar human trait of unsupervised adaptation of a scientific method will not only continue to do harm at beaches, but is being extended to the ultra-violet lamp," states Dr. Theodore B. Appel, state secretary of health.

"As with the sun itself, it would be wise for every person to realize that treatments by the various 'ray' methods need to be professionally controlled. In the final analysis both the sun and the ray demand careful supervision by those thoroughly familiar with their benefits, possibilities and limitations."

"The fact that a therapeutic device readily lends itself to popular adaptation may be sufficient excuse for its commercialization. But it should be realized that ultra-violet rays may have a dangerous effect upon the eyes; that persons who do not tan readily are very poor subjects; that low blood pressure individuals often seriously react to the rays, and that early cases of tuberculosis may be adversely affected. Perhaps, if such matters were more fully understood the use of the lamp would be under more professional supervision than it is at the present time in many cases."

"Light treatments undoubtedly have great value, including those taken at home. But their worth is likely to backfire if they are employed for self-treatment or imaginative ills. Control and knowledge are as essential in this connection as for any other treatment measure. No lamp should be used habitually unless professional advice on the matter has been obtained."

The dictionary has several serious names for the dandelion. So have those suburbanites who take pride in the lawns.

Two Former New Castle Women In Street Car In Los Angeles Quake

Mrs. G. N. Clark of Croton avenue, has just received a most interesting letter from her sister, Mrs. J. C. Norris and Miss Myra McBride, former well known residents of this city, who have been residing in Los Angeles, Cal., for some time past. There experiences were rather unusual and the letter received is of more than ordinary interest to their friends and the public in general, as it tells some of the sensations experienced by themselves and others during the recent earthquake in the Los Angeles district and surrounding cities.

The letter follows:—
Dear Sister:—
We know that you have already heard that we are safe after the earthquake, but we will try to give you a more detailed account of our experiences.

It was certainly a very terrifying event and one which we hope never be repeated. But when we hear how Long Beach and other towns suffered, we are thankful that we escaped so lightly. On Friday evening between five and six o'clock, we were on the street car going downtown to the Business Women's Club dinner in the Emmanuel Presbyterian church. At the corner of Vermont avenue and Ninth street, the car was waiting for the traffic light, when suddenly the car began to shake back and fourth and sideways all at once. For an instant, we thought there was trouble with the power. Then a passenger said "An Earthquake!" Some of the passengers left the car but we remained and soon the car started on, but only went a short distance, when the power failed entirely and the lights went out. As we were then only a few blocks from the church, we walked on there.

Of course everyone there was frightened and excited, but they went on to serve the dinner. But as there were several succeeding quakes, no one felt like eating. The church rocked and shook, the chandeliers swayed back and forth and many left the church and went out into the open, but we thought that as the church was so well constructed, that it would stand, if anything did, so we remained inside. We were very anxious to get back home to our apartment as we did not know what was happening then.

When we arrived home, we found everything all right and excepting pictures and other small objects had fallen, there was no damage done. On the second and third floor apartments, the dishes were broken and furniture moved about. The shocks kept recurring all night, so no one slept much. We do not believe that anyone undressed and went to sleep for two or three nights but kept coats and wraps on hand ready to rush out at anytime.

Mrs. Harriet Cochran, formerly of Shenango Valley Hospital, New Castle, and who is now a nurse in the Los Angeles schools, was out at dinner at a friends house that evening, when the report came over the radio of the terrible destruction at Long Beach and vicinity. She went home at once, called her assistant nurses and went out to help care for the injured. She has been working there right along. Dr. Gageby was sick with a bad cold and was so sorry that she was not able to go too, but she has been able since to take her car and take Mrs. Cochran around with supplies. The conditions in the stricken area were simply terrible and no one was allowed out there except workers or persons having a pass. We now feel that the worst is over. People are being cared for and getting back into the homes that are standing and have gas and water again.

Dr. Gageby is better and will be back at work next week. We were out with her in her car on Wednesday evening and called at the Truist home on Beverly Hills and found them all right. The doctor's sister, Miss Sue Gageby, who lives at Venice is safe, also the Abbotts. Yours Sisters,
MRS. J. C. NORRIS,
MISS MYRA MCBRIDE.

Have Roles In School Play

BECKY CARSON

WILLIAM BUMBAUGH

"Polly of the Circus" plays her eventful romance in the approaching senior high school comedy against the drab monotony of life in a village where a broken leg has left her stranded. William Bumbaugh and Becky Carson are the male and female busybodies of the community. They have made up their lives to regulate the conduct of their person. As Deacon Strong and Mrs. Willoughby, they discover his growing interest in the little show-girl to whom he plays the Good Samaritan in the first act. The parish czar and carina appoint themselves as agents to stop the course of true love. Since they are not allowed to succeed in their designs they must be the villains in the plot.

Probably Becky and William would prefer heroic roles, but since villains they must be, they are prepared to out-herod Herod. Deacon Strong as interpreted is the personification of hypocrisy, and Mrs. Willoughby is narrow, ill-natured gossip itself, unrelieved by any graces of person or personality. Just how these two popular students can so completely divest themselves of youth and attractiveness is a question that probes deeply toward the secret of good acting: the make-up artist, too, will have a hand in the transformation.

Croton Church Special Services

Personal Evangelistic Campaign Will Be Carried On Throughout Next Week

Rev. C. S. Joshua, pastor of the Croton Methodist church, announces a series of meetings in the various homes of the congregation and in the church this week, preparatory to the personal evangelistic campaign which will take place each evening next week.

This evening there will be home services at Mrs. William Crowe's, Dewey avenue, Charles Kenehan leader, and Mrs. Fred Hill's, Mulberry street. Ed Grimes leader.

Wednesday evening the mid-week service will be held in the church at 7:30, and Thursday evening in the homes of Mrs. John Wilson, Dewey avenue, James White leader, and Mrs. Harry Shaffer, Brooklyn avenue, with Rev. C. S. Joshua as leader.

Friday evening the meetings will be in the home of Mrs. E. C. Nolan, Cascade street, James Elaine leader, and H. F. Thompson, Croton avenue, R. D. VanHorn leader.

Saturday evening there will be a men's meeting in the church and evangelistic services all day Sunday.

Worth Grange Has Booster Meeting

State Master And National Grange Secretary Are Main Speakers

Worth grange hall was the setting for a "booster grange meeting" Saturday, with Worth State Grange Master J. A. Boak and the National Grange Secretary Harry A. Caton as speakers of the day.

The forenoon session was taken up largely by James McCandless, of Butler county, a representative in the assembly, who told the grangers facts concerning the doings of the law-makers at Harrisburg. He confined his remarks largely to the milk and road bills. He stated that he advocates less inspectors and the same inspection for milk shipped into Pennsylvania as is had for milk produced in Pennsylvania. He stated he will not support the Williamson road bill, as he favors a bill which would improve more of the rural roads.

Worth Grange Master Frank J. Cooper called the afternoon session to order. He called upon the Pomona Grange Master, H. C. Boyard, of Allegheny county, for a few remarks.

Beaver County Pomona Grange Master W. V. Sohn was called upon next, followed by M. V. Armstrong, of Mercer county.

Harry A. Caton, national officer, gave the main address of the afternoon. He advocated a more economical production of food stuff on the farms, new uses for the by-products, no more reclamation projects until needed, greater cooperation among farmers, lowering of taxes on the farms and an equalization of farm taxes with those on industrial interests.

J. A. Boak spoke of the work of the grange legislature committee. The value of booster meetings and the importance of more cooperation among farmers.

Martha Patterson, furnished the music. Lunch was served by the grange social committee with Mrs. Auster McDanel in charge. The day proved very pleasant and profitable.

Foremen's Club Meets On Monday

Mechanical Department Has Charge Of Program For Monthly Affair

ENTERTAINMENT IS FEATURE EVENT

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 28.—Members of the Foremen's club of the local National Tube Company of this city were grateful indeed for the unusually interesting program enjoyed at their monthly gathering in the Shelby auditorium last night.

The mechanical department of which S. P. Peck is superintendent was in charge of the evening's program. Howell J. Jenkins presided during the occasion.

Mr. Peck in his introductory remarks stated that the department had been assigned an unusually dry subject, "The Maximum Efficiency of Machinery," but the several men had treated it so as to make it entirely uninteresting and brought on serious consideration and discussion later.

In the absence of J. Jay Dunn, V. V. Johnson read his paper to the assembly, entitled "Men and Foremen," in which he brought out that the foreman is an intellectual and thoughtful man and is a leader among men.

He encouraged the reading of good books and profiting from experience. He pointed out that the qualities of a good foreman are a knowledge of human nature, adherence to duty, and possessing a degree of hardness.

Lieut. Fred Hall was next on the evening's program and read a paper on E. D. O. approvals which are orders for work or repairs to be done.

An interesting account of what leaks of various sizes may cost the company was given by the club by their cost expert, Chris Gotjen.

The work of the electrical department in the company was clearly explained by Wilbur Welton, who is in charge there.

The welding and blacksmith shops were discussed by William Kirkpatrick and Howell Jenkins respectively.

The closing talk of the evening on this part of the program was given by Joe Gettig whose subject was "The Care of the Workman." In his talk Mr. Gettig urged the foremen to demand their men use every safety precaution afforded and understand their men and encourage their ambitions.

In connection with this C. E. Sankey, head of the safety department, urged that the local company stretch their three month's safety period to a year.

Supt. Peck announced that a contest was open for all employees to name new uses of steel for which prize money would be awarded for the best suggestions.

President of the club, J. E. McDanel announced that the Regional Conference for foremen of the Western Pennsylvania District will be held sometime in May and urged a good representation of this club there.

This part of the program was followed by the evening's entertainment feature. Sam Rice and William Cowan presented a hilarious comedy sketch. A number of violin selections were then presented by Sam Rice, Jr. The next event was the rendering of a number of popular vocal selections by Miss Frances Gentle of Fair Oaks, Miss Lois Bickert of Beaver Falls, and Gene Medsker of this city.

Miss Sara Bickert of Beaver Falls was the accompanist. Mike Vaness also of this city delighted the audience with two Italian solos. Miss Bickert also gave two novelty dance numbers.

At the close of the evening's program these entertainers received the hearty approval and congratulations of the club for their splendid performance.

The club then adjourned for its customary recreation period in its social rooms.

The next meeting will be held on April 24 and will be in charge of General Superintendent J. W. Orfutt.

Mrs. Rae Chambers Hostess To Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 28.—Members of the Monday Night Bridge club met at the home of Mrs. Rae Chambers on Second street last night for their regular meeting.

New Wilmington Wins From Frisco

Ex-High Girls And Frisco Reserves Win Fine Preliminary Games

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 28.—Putting up a hard and determined fight the Frisco Merchants managed to hold the New Wilmington Merchants, composed of former Westminster college stars to a 33-24 victory in a booster program at the Frisco Armory floor last night.

The Hutchinson Brothers starred for the visitors with 11 points each. In the preliminary games the Ellwood Ex-High Girls swamped the Shenango Girls 41-16 with Miss Virginia Blazin leading the way with nine baskets and a foul for a total of 19 points.

Miss Ailine Anderson and Miss Helen Hill gave her plenty of assistance.

The Frisco Reserves took the measure of the strong Richmond club of New Castle 9-8 after two extra periods. Claude Hauserman scored all of Frisco's points with three baskets and three fouls.

This booster program marked the end of Frisco's long and successful season which was marked by fine turnouts.

It was announced that Risca Williams, Welsh baritone and survivor of the Lusitania in 1916, will speak and sing here on April 15. More details will be announced later. The Friendship Circle class will hold an invitation dinner on April 25. The annual mothers and daughters banquet is to be held sometime in May.

The committee will meet again on May 2 at the home of Miss Louise Barton on Glenn avenue.

Informal Event At Dunn Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 28.—Mrs. J. Jay Dunn Jr. informally entertained a number of her friends at her home on Fountain avenue last evening.

The hours of the evening were whiled away around three tables of contract bridge as a result of which Mrs. Carl Davidson and Mrs. George Moyer received the high score awards.

At an appointed hour the hostess assisted by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Dunn Jr. served dainty refreshments, much to the satisfaction of those present.

Those enjoying the occasion were Mesdames H. D. Patterson, W. G. Thorpe, C. C. Davidson, George Moyer, H. E. Helling, C. M. Iseman, Kathryn Hainer, Lillian Thomas, William Bayers, W. R. Johnston, Herman Wilson, and W. R. Thompson.

This part of the program was followed by the evening's entertainment feature. Sam Rice and William Cowan presented a hilarious comedy sketch. A number of violin selections were then presented by Sam Rice, Jr. The next event was the rendering of a number of popular vocal selections by Miss Frances Gentle of Fair Oaks, Miss Lois Bickert of Beaver Falls, and Gene Medsker of this city.

Miss Sara Bickert of Beaver Falls was the accompanist. Mike Vaness also of this city delighted the audience with two Italian solos. Miss Bickert also gave two novelty dance numbers.

At the close of the evening's program these entertainers received the hearty approval and congratulations of the club for their splendid performance.

The club then adjourned for its customary recreation period in its social rooms.

The next meeting will be held on April 24 and will be in charge of General Superintendent J. W. Orfutt.

In U. S. After League "Walkout"

En route to Japan following their dramatic withdrawal from the League of Nations, members of the Japanese delegation to Geneva are pictured as they arrived at New York. A conference with President Roosevelt is planned before the party leaves the United States for home. Seated in center is Yosuke Matsuoka, leader of the delegation, whose impassioned appeal against the League's vote of censure on Japan preceded the "walk-out."

A Present from the President

Born on the day of President Roosevelt's inauguration, Franklin Delano "Baby" Franklin, of Los Angeles, was named for the new pilot of the ship of state. Now he is the possessor of a memento from his distinguished namesake. It is a silk handkerchief embroidered with the President's signature and bearing the salute "Happy Days." Here are Baby Franklin and his proud mother, exhibiting the present from the White House.

Keeper of the Key

Receiving the key of a city is an honor under any circumstances, but taking it from the hand of beautiful Miss Ethel Hook makes the ceremony a two-fold honor. She is the guardian of the golden key of Long Beach, Cal., and it is her official duty to present the key to each of the 32 major conventions scheduled to be held in the California city during the coming season.

Where Fourteen Marines Escaped Death

That the age of miracles is not past may be gathered from this picture showing the wreck of a United States Marine transport plane which recently crashed on the National Guard flying field at Virginia Beach, Va., without serious injury to any of the fourteen Marines who were aboard. Although the plane, as can be seen, was a total wreck, all the passengers emerged from the debris under their own power. The severity of the crash may be gauged from the picture, showing how motors and wings were ripped apart.

McBRIDE POST TO HOLD CARD PARTY

Arrangements have been completed by the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, for the big card party which will be held Wednesday evening in the Sons of Veterans Hall in the city building.

The site of the party was changed from the Legion Home, when it was found that the accommodations would be insufficient. It is expected that several hundred will attend the party, and an enjoyable evening has been planned by the committee in charge.

It is the men who pay at least for gasoline, according to a nationwide survey which reveals that 82 per cent of all gasoline sold at filling stations is purchased by men, and also that 92 per cent of filling station sales are for cash.

Teachers Carry On In Spite Of Payless Paydays

Rural Teachers Are Showing Patriotism During Present Crisis In County

SOME HAVE GONE UNPAID FOR WEEKS

In spite of the fact that many of the rural teachers in Lawrence county are not receiving any paychecks when payday rolls around, they are carrying on bravely during the present crisis, waiting for the day when more prosperous times will bring their pay checks to them promptly at the first of each month.

County Superintendent of Schools John C. Sylling states that the teachers have proven themselves extremely loyal in the emergency and have gone about their tasks uncomplaining, even though many of them will probably have several months pay coming to them when the year ends, with little prospect of collecting until next year, unless the state legislature provides special aid.

Such help has come from the state in the past, and the county school authorities are hopeful that something will be done by the present legislature to alleviate conditions in the rural districts.

Mr. Sylling cited the fact that as far back as 1837, when the first big depression in the country was noted, the state came to the aid of the schools, increasing the state aid from 50.8 per cent to 74.9 per cent. By 1842 the state aid had dropped again to 51 per cent.

Some of the rural districts have been extremely hard hit through inability to collect the taxes levied on the real estate in their particular district. Three years ago the tax levy for school purposes in the county amounted to $480,000 and it was necessary to file $15,000 or three per cent in taxes for collection. This year the amount which will have to be filed has jumped to $180,000, 40 per cent of the total.

Approximately 11 school districts will wind up the current term with a deficit, unable to pay their school teachers, it is feared. These districts are Big Beaver, Mahoning township, Neshannock township, Perry township, Shenango township, Slippery Rock, Union, Wayne townships and South New Castle borough.

Some of these districts are four months in arrears in paying the salaries of their teachers, while others have been able to borrow enough money from the state to practically pay them up to the present time, but will probably be unable to finish out the term.

The higher cost of education in the high schools is blamed by Superintendent Sylling for the inability of the rural schools to carry on. In Neshannock township for instance, the sum of $4,800 only is needed to pay the elementary teachers, while high school tuition costs the taxpayers of that district $10,000.

Rev. D. C. Schnebly Will Fill Pulpit

Rev. A. M. Stump, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, West Grant street, announces that Rev. D. C. Schnebly, pastor of the Mahoning Presbyterian church, will deliver the Lenten sermon Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in St. Paul's church.

Rev. Schnebly will have as his topic, "The Christian Invitation to the Soul's Rest."

PROF. J. K. POLLOCK WILL MAKE ADDRESS

Prof. James K. Pollock of the faculty of the University of Michigan and resident of this city in his younger days, will this evening be one of three men speaking by radio over a national hookup on the subject of "The Lobby" under the auspices of the National Advisory Council on Radio in Education and the American Political Science Association. The speakers are Prof. Pollock, Edward B. Logan, Budget Secretary of Pennsylvania and Senator Edward P. Costigan of Colorado. The broadcast will be made from Washington, D. C., at 7:15 p. m.

Dickson Writes Of Earthquake

Former Local School Superintendent Says Violence Confined To Small Area

G. A. Dickson of Oceanside, Cal., who was superintendent of schools in New Castle 15 years ago, gives his observations of the earthquake in a letter to Mr. and Mrs. John G. North, Centennial street. The letter of March 20 follows, in part:

"So much has been written and radioed that it will scarcely be any use in my trying to tell you about the quake except our own little experience. We were out in the cabin listening to the 'March of Time' when the radio stopped, then a shudder, a long slow one. Alec jumped up and said 'What is that?' The radio resumed and it was all over except for the straightening of the pictures in the house. Harry Carr, a writer, had sailed from the port at four on his way to Japan; the ship stopped then they heard a grinding of the machinery as if it were tearing the ship to pieces. A few moments and the ship sailed on. The shock occurred about 5:56 here. 'The entire violence was confined to an area of about 25 miles square. Here it didn't shake down a chimney or break a pane of glass.'"

Kiwanis-Lions Minstrel Show Occurs Thursday

Rehearsing with the snap of veteran stage professionals, the Kiwanis-Lions minstrel players again went through their roles last night in preparation for Thursday night's benefit show in the George Washington junior high school auditorium. The opening hour will be 8:15 o'clock.

Sponsored chiefly as a benefit for the Lawrence county blind folk and underprivileged children of the district, the school performance promises to offer one of the most entertaining minstrel programs given in public here in years.

With Clarence M. England, former Kiwanis club president, heading the troupe of showmen—nearly 40 employees of the Pennsylvania Power company here—the public cannot fail to enjoy the novelty skits that have been planned. From beginning to end, the show provokes repeated convulsions of laughter.

Every minstrel player has his part down pat—and besides finding entertainment the audience will know that it helped finance welcomed treatment for some sightless child. The Lions' first responsibility is to the blind while Kiwanis aids neglected children.

Not exactly newcomers to the stage are the Pennsylvania Power players, who scored triumphantly before a large crowd of company folk here a year ago.

The show curtains, say those in charge, will go up promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

Ministers Approve Plans For 'City Park'

Ministers Vote To Approve Council's Action, Also The Change In Marriage Laws

At the weekly session of the New Castle Ministerial association held Monday morning in the First Presbyterian church many matters were brought up for the consideration of the clergy.

Dr. Walter E. McClure presided and the group approved a suggested plan for the city council to take over Cascade park for a city park and to run it without the commercial features.

They also approved the bill now before the state legislature for changing the marriage laws of the state to read that a couple shall wait three days after applying for a marriage license, before receiving same.

Dr. Weir C. Ketter of Grove City college, will speak before the ministers of the city at the next week's session.

Boy Confesses Extortion Plot At Hudson, Ohio

Schoolboy Of Fifteen Arrested For Sending Threat Letters To Mrs. Lindbergh

(International News Service)
AKRON, O., Mar. 28.—Arrested as the instigator of an attempted plot to extort $25,000 from Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, wife of the famous transatlantic flyer, a 15-year-old schoolboy of Hudson, O., today was expected to be turned over to juvenile authorities.

Police said the youth was taken into custody near the spot where he allegedly had directed the money to be placed. United States postal authorities discovered the purported plot and caused his arrest.

The boy, who was said to have admitted the plot, wrote two notes addressed to Mrs. Charles Lindbergh, Delaware and New York, according to detectives. Both were intercepted by postal inspectors before they reached Mrs. Lindbergh.

In the second letter, dated March 14, the boy was alleged to have written: "We are watching you. Your lives are in danger. There are 30 in our gang. Send the money by parcel post to 'Dad,' care of —Inn, Route 14, Hudson."

The person named as "Dad," according to detectives, is a recluse friend of the accused boy residing on the Akron-Cleveland road, north of Akron. The recluse, when questioned, denied any knowledge of the extortion plot. Authorities said he was absolved in statements made by the boy.

Postoffice Inspector Ernest Claggett, of Akron, said the boy was remorseful over his purported act when he was apprehended.

"I don't know what I would have done with the money if I had got it," the boy was said to have told detectives. "My father will kill me, though, when he hears of this."

Attempt Made To Steal Automobile

Discovery was made by residents of the vicinity about 11 o'clock last night, that three men were trying to steal the car of Stewart Foltz of Wallace avenue, which was parked in the rear of the Berger store on North Mercer street.

The police were notified and arrived in a short time, but the three men made their getaway. These men had shoved the car from the parking lot in the rear of the Berger store to Cochran way in the rear of The News office and were attempting to start the car by connecting the battery with the engine by means of coils.

TRAIN RIDERS ARE ARRESTED

For riding Pennsylvania passenger trains and neglecting to pay their fares, John Craig of Cleveland, O., and James McGuigan of Muscatine, Iowa, will spend five days in the county jail. They were sentenced by Alderman James C. Brice Monday afternoon.

The two men were arrested by Officer Mont Richards of the Pennsylvania Railroad police Monday morning, after being taken off a passenger train. The men took the matter philosophically and said that when their five days were up they would be leaving on a passenger train again as non-paying passengers.

County Schools Will Compete At New Wilmington

Annual Music And Literary Contest Will Be Held On Saturday, April 1.

WINNERS WILL GO TO ERIE MEETING

New Wilmington will be a center of activity on Saturday, when students from thirteen high schools in the county will meet in the annual music and literary contest, with New Wilmington high school as host.

Four different programs will be carried out at the same time in the Little Theater, United Presbyterian church, Music Conservatory and the College Chapel.

Walt Whitman, principal at New Wilmington, will be general chairman of the program. The judges will include: Prof. Morten J. Luvaas, music director at Allegheny College; Prof. David Rees, music director of the Sharon schools; Miss Selkirk Burgess, of Grove City high school; Miss Gladys Sanderson and Mrs. Gladys Arnold, of the Slippery Rock State Teachers College faculty; and Terry Carson, music instructor, of New Castle.

The program includes competition in stringed instruments, piano and vocal solos, woodwind and brasses, vocal ensembles and chorus, while the forensic program will feature, debates, orations, reading, and extemporaneous speaking.

The winners of the various musical events will present a program in the College Chapel Saturday evening, starting at 8 o'clock, to which the public is invited.

The schools which will participate will include: New Castle, Ellwood City, Bessemer, East Brook, Shengango, Mount Jackson, Union High, New Wilmington, Plaingrove, Princeton, Enon Valley, Wampum, and Harlansburg.

Hikers Can See Park Improvement

As soon as weather conditions become suitable work of laying additional stone walks and stone walls along the streams in Gaston park will be rushed. The inclement weather forced a slowdown in all city relief workmen's operations. Gaston park has been much improved in appearance since last year and persons who wish to see the improvement can hike through the park when the weather is suitable for hiking.

Must Have Their Cars Tested Before April 1

Owners of motor vehicles have not only until midnight Friday, March 31, to have their vehicles inspected because on April 1 members of the state highway patrol here and elsewhere will start an inspection campaign that is certain to net motor car owners who have failed to obey the state motor law and are operating cars.

Kutsche Concern To Employ Local Labor On Post Office Job

The A. W. Kutsche company, Detroit, general contractors for the city's new post office building, made it known today that New Castle labor will be employed almost throughout in the construction work here.

Through George C. Murphy, special representative of the Kutsche concern, it was learned that the Kutsche company fully intends to have New Castle men working where possible. But a few exceptions, in cases where regular Kutsche foremen are concerned, will be made.

As the foundation work commenced today, a crew of about 15 men, mostly carpenters, was on the job. The company expects to gradually hire more men at times when they are required, and not at one selection. A working office, serving at the same time as a tool storage house, has been opened.

While the Frenkel & Snyder company was completing its excavation work yesterday, Mr. Murphy, who for months has been directing the new Youngstown post office work, declared the company's labor policy.

It is our intention to employ New Castle men where possible and, of course, that will be in the majority of cases, he said. We naturally must use our own foremen, who will come from out of town. In every community where we go and here it will be the same. It has always been our practice to give local labor preference.

Mr. Murphy stated that common labor will be employed on a 35-cent-an-hour basis. That will be the lowest rate paid.

Headquarters of Mr. Murphy will be moved from Youngstown here within the next few weeks, he said.

Missing Man Is Believed Dead

Relatives Tell Court All They Know Of Cadmus I. Liebenorfer

An attempt to clear up a mystery surrounding the disappearance of Cadmus I. Liebenorfer, of Perry township was the basis of a hearing before Judge R. L. Hildebrand at court Monday.

Liebenorfer, born in 1862, went west years ago. He was of a roving disposition and for years his friends received letters from him. The last letter was received from Bullfrog, Nev., in 1911. In that letter Liebenorfer stated that he was about to go on a prospecting expedition. Since then nothing has been heard of him and his friends here believe that he is dead.

Two brothers, who reside in the west have made efforts to locate him but without result. Liebenorfer has a small interest in property here and an application has been made to court by his sister, Mrs. Mazie Marshall, to have him declared legally dead, in order that the estate may be settled up.

An order of publication was made and if nothing is heard from Liebenorfer within the next twelve weeks, an order will be made.

Senator Long Is Sued For $500,000

Brig. Gen. Samuel T. Ansell, Of Louisiana, Files Libel Suit Against "Kingfish"

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Mar. 28.—A new libel suit was filed against Senator Huey (Kingfish) Long of Louisiana, by Brig. Gen. Samuel T. Ansell, former counsel for the senate committee investigating Louisiana's senatorial election.

Long recently denounced Ansell on the senate floor and invited him to "sue me." Ansell promptly did so in the district supreme court—for $500,000. Then Long claimed senatorial immunity.

In a new suit filed today Ansell claimed that "the Kingfish" franked thousands of copies of his senate speech, after having "dressed up" the text with sub-headings "even more defamatory than the speech itself."

STATE LEGISLATURE PUSHES RELIEF MEASURES

Talbot Bills Being Passed

Appropriation Of $2,000,000 For State Aid For Next Two Months

ALSO LOOKS TO FUND FOR NET TWO YEARS

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Mar. 28.—Legislation appropriating funds for the relief of Pennsylvania's unemployed during the next two years was pushed towards enactment today as rapidly as constitutional requirements permitted.

Provision for jobless aid during April and May was considered assured. The house last night passed the Talbot bill appropriating $2,000,000 for these two months after the sponsor, Grover C. Talbot, speaker of the house, left the rostrum to plead for the measure. The bill was committed to the senate, sent to committee and reported back to the floor without delay. It was on second reading today with indications pointing to its dispatch to the governor tomorrow.

The house was understood to be prepared to pass finally a second Talbot bill today, providing $2,000,000 for relief work during the 1933-34 biennium. In its present form the bill also includes a $2,000,000 appropriation for April and May. The plan was to have the senate strike out this provision inasmuch as it duplicates the first Talbot bill.

Provides For Two Years. Other terms of the $2,000,000 bill are that $5,000,000 shall be used for the five months from June to November inclusive, and $15,000,000 for the remaining 19 months of the biennium ending May 31, 1935. The $20,000,000 total thereby provided for the two years conforms with the figure suggested by Gov. Gifford Pinchot in his messages as the minimum needed for that period. The legislation thus may rid itself by next Monday night of unemployment relief legislation so far as making the appropriations is concerned. Still remaining, however, is the complex task of providing the funds to make the bills effective. The $20,000,000 Talbot measure specifies that the money may be expended for relief only if the money is actually available in the general fund for that purpose. The expenditure is barred if there is insufficient revenue to keep the budget in balance.

Effectiveness of the relief bill is predicated partially upon passage of a $25,000,000 bond issue, proceeds from which would go into the general fund to help defray government expenses during 1933 and 1934. A constitutional amendment is necessary to float a bond issue. Enabling resolutions were scheduled for final passage in the house today. With their passage the voters will be asked to pass upon the proposal in November.

Ned Bryant Tells Of Experience In Long Beach Quake

Writes To Edgar Seavy And Wife, This City; Says Alf Williams Uninjured

That the Williams and Bryant families were uninjured in the recent California earthquake is the welcome news received from Los Angeles by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar E. Seavy, of 226 East Washington street. The letter from Ned Bryant, in part, is appended:

"Our home withstood the quake very well. It is a Colonial home. The brick chimney fell down and Mrs. Bryant lost a number of her nice dishes but they can be replaced. Thanks be to God we escaped without any injury."

"All Williams' home is alright. Like ours, his brick chimney fell, but otherwise they are alright. We are living 20 miles from Long Beach with friends in Los Angeles."

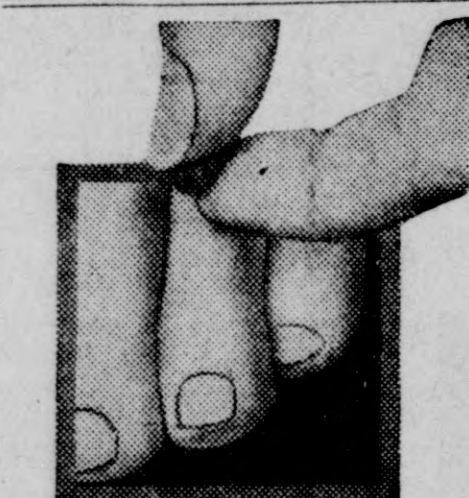

"Long Beach is the home of the Navy. We have 100 ships right in front of the city and there were 50,000 men on these ships. One hour after the quake they were ashore and took charge of protecting the city. They did fine work. Friday morning I was one of the committee to welcome the U. S. Constitution and chairman of the banquet committee to entertain the officers, but as you know, that same night the quake came and everything was off."

Missionaries Will Live In New Castle

Immense Crowd At Mass Meeting

Thousands At Madison Square Garden Protest Against Racial Persecution

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Mar. 28.—Picking up the routine tasks of life where they were left off to participate in one of the greatest demonstrations of protest ever staged by the City of Gotham, New Yorkers today awaited the reaction of Germany's Nazi leaders to this gigantic, spontaneous protest against racial persecution.

Hinging upon the monster mass meeting at Madison Square Garden, where 22,000 persons of all faiths and creeds jammed the emporium of sport to its rafters, overflow meetings and other protest gatherings were held in various churches and auditoriums in all parts of the city, last night. Police authorities estimated between 55,000 and 60,000 persons gathered at Madison Square Garden and vicinity to participate in the meeting there. The total attendance at this and similar meetings in other parts of the city, it was estimated, amounted well up to the 100,000 mark.

New York's great mass meeting of protest was but one of many score such gatherings held simultaneously in all parts of the country.

The protests of German government leaders and other responsible authorities there that the atrocity tales coming out of Germany for the past two weeks were "lies, all lies," and the assurances of Secretary of State Cordell Hull, from Washington, that persecution of Jews in Germany had ceased were disregarded by the sponsors of the protest movement. Appeals to these sponsors to cancel the meetings at the last minute were refused.

Speakers at all the meetings, however, emphasized the declaration that no ill will toward Germany as a nation existed, and that no criticism of the country was intended. The protest, they all declared, was directed against the activities of political leaders and individuals for their persecutions of members of the Jewish race and faith.

C. M. T. C. Boys To Meet Thursday

A meeting of the young men of the city and county, who have attended the Citizens Military Training Camps in past years and many of whom hope to attend again this year, has been called for 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening in Troop F Armory on Neshannock avenue. ### THREE HUNDRED CONFIRMED HERE

Bishop Boyle Conducts First Confirmation At St. Lucy's In Seven Years

Over 300 persons were confirmed according to the rites of the Roman Catholic church, Monday evening, by Rt. Rev. Hugh C. Boyle, bishop of the diocese of Pittsburgh. It was the first class of St. Lucy's parish to be confirmed in seven years, and the first class ever to be confirmed in the new St. Lucy's church.

The class, composed of men, women and children, had been under the instruction of Rev. Fr. M. J. Vitale, pastor of the church.

Because of the size of the class, a double confirmation had to be conducted, the first being at 5 o'clock and the second at 5:45.

Deacon and sub-deacon were the Very Rev. H. Seidel, dean of the section, from Beaver Falls, and Rev. Fr. Joseph Doer, pastor of St. Joseph's church, assisted by Rev. Fr. A. P. Scholz of St. Margaret's, Rev. Fr. M. J. Vitale, Rev. Fr. F. L. Watterson of St. Mary's and Rev. Fr. A. Perulli of Hillsville.

Plan Work At Cottage Grove

Meeting Of Association Takes Place Last Night; Other News Of Ward

The Cottage Grove Association met in the fire department building here Monday night in order to plan for the spring and summer season at the resort.

Members of the association planned to repair the bank along the creek, which was washed away by the recent high waters. They also discussed plans for repairing the driveway to the cottages.

Cottage Grove, located this side of Fayette, is owned by seventh ward people. There are ten cottages on the spot, occupied by the families of the following people: W. R. Bumbaugh, C. J. Rafferty, E. A. Jones, I. D. Wagner, G. G. Horchler, Sant Coen, John Bevan, John W. Jones, J. B. Bumbaugh, and J. F. Gorley.

Since the laying of the secondary road from Highland Heights to New Wilmington, the route to Cottage Grove is paved all the way. A secondary road had been previously laid from Fayette south toward New Castle and past Cottage Grove. This road now joins the new highway to New Wilmington.

Will Lay Sewer For New Street

One hundred feet of sewer tile, which will be used in the installation of a new sewer next to the Mahoning Trust Company and stretching between North Liberty street and North Ashland avenue, was hauled to seventh ward Monday.

Work on the laying of the new sewer pipe was scheduled to start today. This is in preparation for improvement of the street by the city, the property for widening of which was purchased some time ago by the P. and L. E. railroad.

Observations In 7th Ward

Red tile roofing is being placed on the north side of the P. & L. E. depot roof, this week.

No telephone call was received at the seventh ward fire department Sunday morning but the firemen knew of the blaze just a few minutes after it had started. A man came running down the street from the fire and upon seeing Blaine Bumbaugh out front of the fire station, sweeping the sidewalk, motioned to him, and the local fire-fighters were soon on the way to the scene.

A leak in the water line at the rear of the Cherry street office of the Pennsylvania railroad is being repaired. A. R. Kelliber, by the way, is the chap who is on full time duty at this office. He has been there for about a month now.

A crowd of youngsters of Mahoning school were excused at three o'clock yesterday afternoon in order to attend Confirmation.

HOLDS MAN NABBED IN GUNPLAY EPISODE

Carl Layton, Carson street, pleaded guilty before Alderman O. H. P. Green on Monday afternoon to a charge of felonious shooting and carrying firearms illegally, and was bound over to the June term of criminal court. Layton went to jail in default of bail.

Chief of Police John F. Haven placed the charge after Layton was nabbed following a shooting episode in the front of the Arthur Burkley store at 914 West Washington street over the week end.

Youth Recovering From Burns Faces Arrest As Robber

Youth Severely Injured As Gas Tank Explodes, Larceny Charges Filed

(International News Service) FRANKLIN, Pa., Mar. 28.—While he continued his battle for recovery from serious burns, police today said they were preparing to file charges of larceny, breaking and entering against Louis Strain, 17, in connection with a gas tank explosion at Seneca.

Bits of clothing found in an investigation of the blast which destroyed a casinghead gasoline plant, County Detective Chester Beatty said led him to the home of Merle Lupold, brother-in-law of the youth, where he said he found Strain suffering from severe burns on many parts of the body.

House Girded For Pension Battle

Battle On Motion To Discharge Committee From Further Consideration Of Bill

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Mar. 28.—House factions were girded for a battle today on a motion to discharge the committee on constitutional amendments from further consideration of the joint resolutions providing constitutional amendments for old age pensions.

The measures were introduced early in the session and have the support of the Vore organization in Philadelphia. The state Republican and Grundy organizations in the house, who are opposed to the measures, virtually conceded that supporters of the legislation have the majority required to drag the bills from committee upon the floor but apparently planned to put up a fight and let the motion go to a vote.

Lenten Cantata In Trinity Church

School Board To Meet Saturday

Tax Millage For Year To Be Definitely Fixed By Board

Tax millage for the coming year will be set Saturday night by the New Castle school board when it meets in special session at seven-thirty. The millage has been fixed at fifteen mills informally, but the law calls for the definite setting of it on April 1. The meeting will be in the nature of a ratification of what has already been done.

What will be done in the matter of teachers' contracts remains to be seen. The board will not permit itself to be caught with all contracts renewed if there is a possibility of restrictive legislation being passed in the present session of the General Assembly. At the same time, the board does not wish to have the annoyance of renewing contracts if they are not to be circumscribed further by legislation.

Unemployed Are Given Jobs As Strikers Quit

(International News Service)
WHEELING, W. Va., Mar. 28.—Replacements from the ranks of unemployed were being recruited by welfare workers today to be given the jobs of any strikers who failed to report for work on relief projects following a wage cut from 30 to 22 1/2 cents an hour.

Approximately one-third of 1,500 workers on different construction jobs being carried out as relief projects in the county refused to go to work in protest against the wage cut.

Welfare leaders said no attempt would be made to compromise, replacements being called in to take the places of strikers.

White's Protest Is Presented

Complaint On Effort Of State To Collect Tax Here, At State Capital

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Mar. 28.—The State Department of Justice today considered the complaint of R. M. White, city solicitor of New Castle, against a corporate tax levy on approximately 500 landowners of that city.

The complaint, involving a corporate tax bill of $10,108, landed in the justice department after passing through the hands of Richard J. Beamish, secretary of the commonwealth, and Leon D. Metzger, secretary of revenue.

The Fair Grounds Land company, upon whom the tax originally was levied, is no longer in business. Metzger claims corporate taxes are a first lien upon the franchise and property, real and personal, from the date on which the tax settlement is approved under the act of June 15, 1911. The company made its last payment on June 13, 1917. And the disputed assessment dates back to May 6, 1915. Metzger holds that purchasers of the company's real estate took title to the property subject to the state's tax lien.

Stock Market
Grows Firmer

Rails Hope To Bring Firmer
Note To Market During Morning

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Mar. 28.—Firming tendencies in the rails helped the stock market today with Union Pacific and Louisville & Nashville gaining about a point each. Others worked up to the previous close after early irregularity.

This, however, failed to stimulate any buying enthusiasm and the market continued to display the lack of interest which started last week.

Sentiment was stimulated in the second hour by payment of the regular dividend by Allied Chemical. Wall Street had been uncertain due to earnings of only $3.22 a share last year against the $6 rate. The stock rallied more than 2 points on the news.

American Telephone slipped fractionally to a new 1933 low in the early dealings, breaking the 90-level for the first time since last summer. It recovered to the previous close later. Dupont also was heavy but met better support.

Homestake Mining was again outstanding, rising 3 points to a new record high.

Utilities were sluggish, unsettled by pressure on Telephone and Consolidated Gas. Oils continued quiet awaiting the outcome of the petroleum conferences in Washington.

Tractions were easy.

Outside markets were equally dull. Bonds were irregular while commodities fluctuated in a narrow range.

Canal Project
Being Studied

President Informs Canal
Backers, That Plan Will Be Considered

TO HASTEN STUDY OF ARMY REPORT

Proposal of backers of the Beaver and Mahoning waterways project, who are seeking to have this undertaking included in a relief improvement program which will include public works, sponsored by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, has been referred to officials in charge of that program by the president.

Mayor Mark E. Moore, of Youngstown, who sent a telegram to President Roosevelt asking consideration of the project received an assuring answer from Col. Louis MCH. Howe, personal secretary to President Roosevelt.

The answer to the request stated that President Roosevelt has brought the attention of the telegram to the officials who are working out the program of public works.

With the senators of Ohio and Pennsylvania, as well as the congressmen from the districts affected working on the project, it is hoped to secure an appropriation to start the canalization of the Beaver and Mahoning rivers.

The Rivers and Harbors Board is prepared to consider the Beaver-Mahoning project just as soon as the re-survey of the project, now under way by U. S. army engineers, is completed, it is stated.

Dickey Would Open
Idle Plants, Let
U. S. Buy Surplus

Railroad League Hears Attorney's Views In Monday Night Address

That the government would be ahead by ordering industry to "turn its wheels" to manufacture at capacity, and then to purchase at the close of the year the surpluses which the plants might have, was the thought which Attorney Thomas W. Dickey introduced in his talk on "Transportation" before the local Railroad Employees and Citizens' league last night.

Mr. Dickey declared his belief that in the end the government expense would be less than it is today under the prevailing system of federal and state relief.

A large audience, assembled in the Pennsylvania railroad's assembly room here, heard the attorney. President J. H. McIlvenny, who presided, introduced him.

The organization meets next on April 24.

CAUGHT STEALING
COAL BY POLICE

This morning an officer of the city police force caught Escro Owens and Lawrence Payne, negroes, wheeling coal on a wheel barrow, which they had taken from the cellars of Ed. Washington and others on West Falls street. Washington and others were arrested by the P. & L. E. authorities a week ago for the theft of this coal from cars of the railroad company. Owens and Payne are being held pending a disposition of the case against them.

CANTON MAN PAYS
SPEEDING FINE

Ralph Heller of Canton O. was arrested yesterday on North Liberty street by a motorcycle officer of the city charged with speeding at the rate of sixty miles an hour and passing numerous machines at this high rate of speed. He demanded a hearing and was released for a hearing this morning on a ten dollar forfeit. He failed to appear this morning for a hearing and his money was declared forfeited to the city as a fine.

FAR REACHING MOVE PROPOSED
AS BANKS' AID

R. F. C. May Exchange Collateral Held For Preferred Stock In Banks Affected

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 28.—In one of the most far reaching moves yet considered for meeting banking conditions, the Reconstruction Finance corporation today was considering the exchange of collateral held for loans of the financial institutions for preferred stock.

This would return to the banks several billion dollars worth of collateral, a considerable portion of which would be available for discount at the Federal Reserve banks.

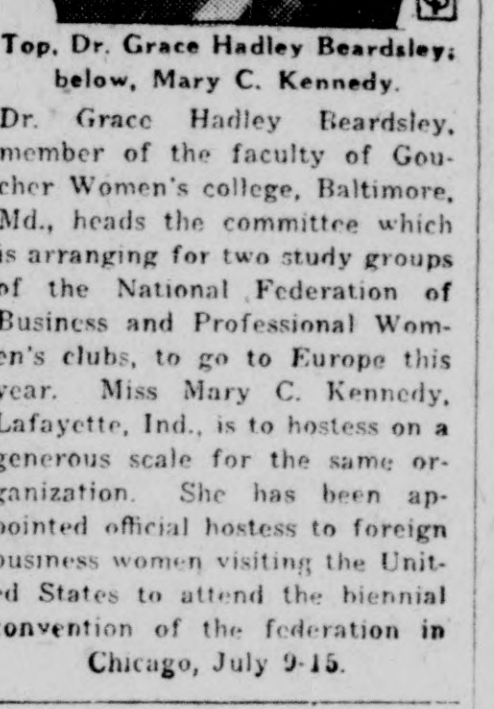

Under recently enacted banking legislation the corporation was empowered to purchase preferred stock of banks. Regulations promulgated indicated that the interests of the government would be safeguarded in view of the restrictions thrown around purchases of stock by the corporation.

The banks of the country have actually received about $1,013,000,000 from the corporation and have repaid $307,243,965. A total of about 9,500 loans aggregating $1,161,000,000 were authorized to 5,478 banks and trust companies. About $111,764,000 in authorized loans was withdrawn or cancelled.

Milk Producers To Meet Next Saturday

Call Is Extended For Different Districts At Princeton Meeting

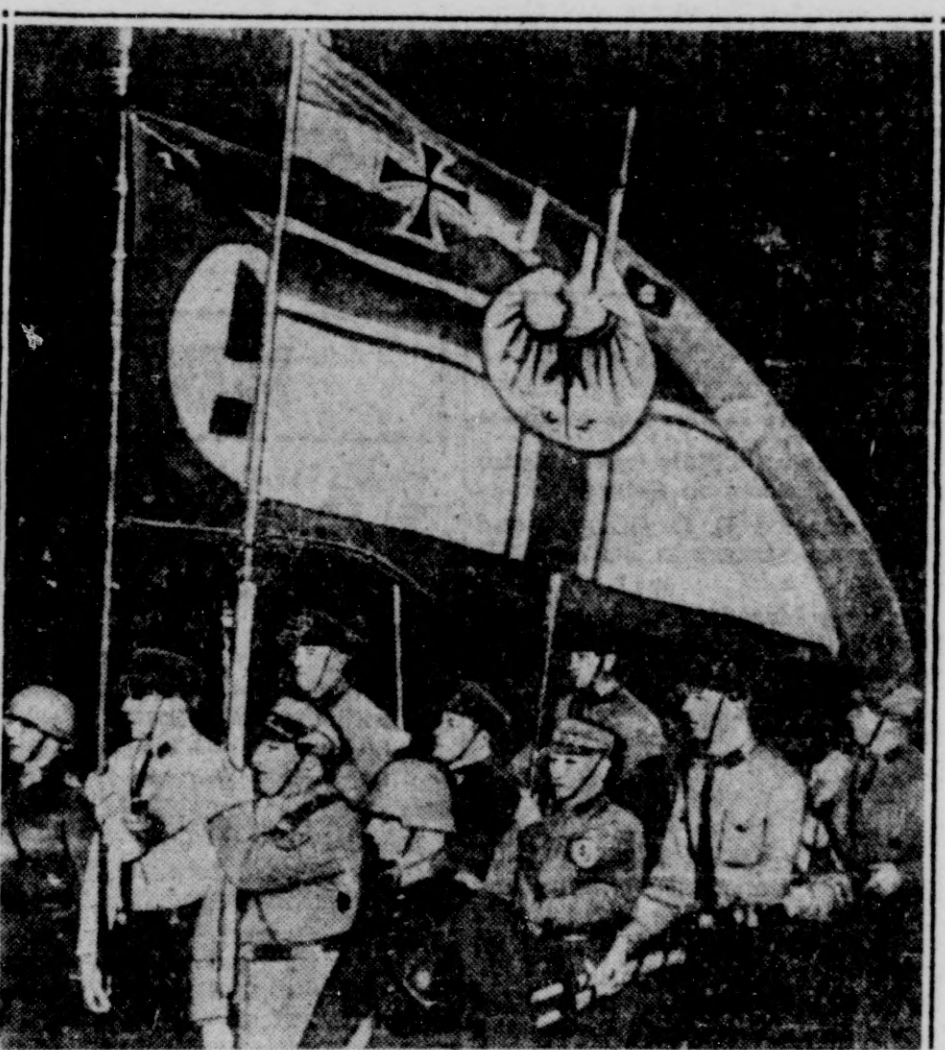

J. B. Shearer of Slippery Rock township, presided at a meeting of dairymen of that section held last night in the Princeton High school building.

The meeting was held for the purpose of enlisting the co-operation of dairymen in the formation of the Western Pennsylvania Milk Dealers Association. Mr. Shearer gave an account of a recent meeting which he had attended at Evans City, and this was followed by a general discussion.

It was decided to have a county meeting called at the court house for next Saturday afternoon at 1:30 at which reports will be heard from the different districts of the county.

Passing of German Republic

Side by side with the old Imperial flag, the swastika banner of Chancellor Adolf Hitler's Nazis is borne through the streets of Berlin in a torchlight procession that celebrated the rise to power of the National Socialist Party and the virtual death knell of the Republic. Note Berliners on the sidewalk giving the familiar Fascist salute to the colors.

Laughing in Face of Death

Apparently untroubled by the knowledge that he has a rendezvous with death, Tameo Sagoya, assassin of Premier Yuko Hamaguchi of Japan, is shown laughing gaily as he was escorted to the death cell to await execution. Sagoya shot the Premier at Tokyo railroad station in November 1930, but the statesman lived many months before succumbing to his wounds. The assassin was sentenced early this month.

Epworth Church
Has Another Fine
Crowd At Revival

Services Continue Tonight;
Announce Prayer Groups
For Wednesday

Epworth M. E. church had another large crowd at its evangelistic services last night.

Dr. J. A. Galbraith, pastor, was the speaker, his subject being "What Time Is It In Religion?" David Reese offered several solos, and Miss Martha McCreary and Mrs. Harry Marshall gave a duet. The choir added to the musical program. Tonight's subject for Dr. Galbraith's address will be "What Is Conversion?" A special delegation from the Calvary Presbyterian church will be present. Music will be furnished by the Book-Leyde quartet and by Mr. Burrows, of Ellwood City.

Prayer services tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock will be at the homes of Mrs. J. W. Miller, 1708 East Washington street, Mrs. William C. Hall, 220 Edgewood avenue and Mrs. Harry Connors, 609 Raymond street. As usual, prayer services for men and women will be conducted at 7 p. m. at the church.

Report Favorably
On Direct Relief
Grants To States

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 28.—The Roosevelt plan, providing a fund of $500,000,000 for direct relief grants to the states through the R. F. C. for aiding unemployed, was favorably reported today by the senate banking and currency committee.

It was to be reported to the senate during the afternoon so it can be considered later in the week.

The United States dollar comprises the currency medium in the following places outside of continental United States and certain island possessions; British Honduras, Cuba (where pesos also are used), Dominican Republic, Hawaii, Honduras (northern portion), Liberia, Panama and Puerto Rico.

Ready To Start Debt Talk
With Foreign Countries

FRANCE MAY PAY DECEMBER DEBT

(International News Service)
LONDON, Mar. 28.—Negotiations on foreign debts between Great Britain and the United States may start in Washington this week, according to reports here today.

In some circles it was even stated the formal negotiations would be launched today.

It was also reported President Roosevelt has again invited Prime Minister MacDonald to Washington, urging him to make the journey as soon as the discussions are sufficiently advanced.

Expect Settlement.

Paris, Mar. 28.—France expects a general and equitable settlement of foreign debts parallel with the world economic conference, in the opinion of Foreign Minister Joseph Paul-Boncour today.

In a speech outlining the French foreign policy he made this statement, adding France would work to render misunderstanding between France and the United States of merely passing moment.

France Will Pay.

Washington, Mar. 28.—France will pay the December installment of her American debt which she defaulted, according to the personal opinion of Jacques Stern, a member of the French chamber of deputies who voted for the debt payment last year. He was presented to President Roosevelt today by French Ambassador Paul Claudel. They said they discussed the forthcoming world economic conference with the chief executive and said it should be called soon.

Mr. Insull has succeeded in insulating himself from the charges hurled at him.

Citizens Care For Roads, No Taxes

WASHINGTON, Pa., Mar. 28.—An innovation in township road financing was in force Monday—believed to be the first such action in the state with the unanimous decision of Smith township supervisors to forego a levy for this purpose during 1933. A saving estimated at $20,000 is expected. Last year's levy was 5 1/2 mills.

Smith township has more than 30 miles of highways to maintain.

Colds Go OVERNIGHT When You Take This Famous Tablet in Time

At the first sign of a cold, take Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. It usually expels the cold over night and thus prevents the infection spreading within the system. Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine acts quickly because it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, kills the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and tones the entire system. Accept nothing else.

ROAMING

With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things
Around New Castle.

At least one gold hoarder came out into the open Monday. Not only came out but brought along his hoarded gold to show us and after seeing it, the hoarding can be overlooked.

G. D. Gosner of the New Wilmington road came in with a California 25 cent gold piece under date of 1933. A coin so thin that you could hold a dozen of them and imagine you had that many corn flakes in your hand.

Back in 1903, September 6 was the date, E. P. Tate, an old soldier gave Mr. Gosner the gold piece as a remembrance and he has kept it ever since. As a souvenir of a nearly non-existent coin it is valuable. As a medium of exchange it probably never was very popular. You could lose a couple of dollars worth of them and never notice it.

George W. Gibbons of Wurttemberg takes his pencil in hand today to advise us against starting the Gusset Manufacturing Company. George is of the opinion that with conditions the way they are, there aren't many large stomachs left and it will be some time before gussets will be needed.

Later on he thinks a gusset factory would be a good investment, so that the only difference between our views is the time element. Strike while the iron is hot brother, that is if you have a hammer and a piece of iron.

He also pays his compliments to Joe Bulger in which he says that he notes Mr. Bulger is figuring on "some new deocion." "He should worry" says Mr. Gibbons, "the devil beat him to it 4000 years ago." Infering, we take it, that Mr. Bulger is some 40 centuries back of the times.

Seems like ninety per cent of us are sparks, a spark being a fellow who attends fires. Let a blaze start, or let the fire equipment come roaring down the street and most of us forget everything else.

Especially if the fire is as spectacular as one as that of the Simplex Battery plant last night. Huge billows of smoke that rolled out full and black, and flames that shot up like a million fire imps dancing a jig.

Shortly after the reflection of the flames began to paint the sky East Washington street was a busy place. From every corner of the city spectators crowded in, some of them with their dinner still on their chins, others in lounging clothes, and all of them headed for the fire.

In a few minutes the tracks alongside the plant were lined with thousands, and not all of them kept a safe distance back.

Two Suspects In "Jig-Saw" Killing Held By Police

Pittsburgh Police Arrest Two
And Hold One As Material
Witness In Slaying

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Mar. 28.—Detectives today detained two suspects and a material witness in connection with Pittsburgh's first "jig-saw puzzle" killing, which brought death to Joseph Sztarkowski, 40, a week ago for kiltzing.

Edward Warshek and Adam Jonoski, 35, were the suspects arrested after John Kutchnoski, 43, told police the man was killed during a fight at his home when two men resented Sztarkowski's "kiltzing" over the shoulder of an unidentified woman working a jig-saw puzzle.

Kutchnoski was held as a material witness. The woman has not been placed in custody.

Circus Folk Set For Risky Stunts

Hair-Raising Feats Galore Planned For Y's Gala Indoor Show

A daring "slide for life" act will be one of the outstanding hits of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Thursday and Friday evening and Saturday afternoon of this week.

The performer, Jack Boyles, will hang by his teeth and slide on a suspended wire while the spectators hold their breath.

The "climber" act will be the contribution of the Y's Junior Leaders' corps, the gravity thrillers will unfold their hair-raising antics on a towering horizontal bar and the two-who-go-nowhere act will be staged by Ralph Brooks and Jack Llewellyn. In the gravity thrillers' feat, Llewellyn and Vilha Mackey are the performers.

The Y's Sore Paw and Dinglehoof circus plays both Thursday and Friday nights with a children's matinee on Saturday afternoon.

Harmony Baptist Temperance Rally

Large Group Hears Attorney
Patterson Speak On Beer
Legislation Sunday
Evening

A large and enthusiastic audience greeted Clarence Patterson, New Castle attorney at a union "Anti-Liquor Rally" held on Sunday evening at the Harmony Baptist church on the New Castle-Ellwood City road. The meeting was held under the auspices of the local W. C. T. U. and the churches cooperating were Slippery Rock Presbyterian; Greenwood Methodist; Center United Presbyterian and Harmony Baptist.

Mr. Patterson said in part: "There has been a marked transition in affairs since National Prohibition was enacted into the Constitution through the enactment of the Volstead Act; simultaneous to which there was enacted the Snyder Bill of the State of Pennsylvania."

Back in 1918 the matter of temperance was a moral issue; a little later it shifted to an enforcement issue; then it shifted again to what it is now considered to be, an economic issue.

Speaking of the present beer legislation, Mr. Patterson said: "I regard the Beer Bill to be a legislative lie."

At the close of the address an "Open Forum" was held in which a number of questions were asked the speaker.

Various parts on the program were taken by the pastors of the churches represented. The Scripture was read by Rev. Johnson of the Center U. P. church; Prayer was offered by Rev. Berber of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church; the invocation was given by Rev. Aiken, a retired minister, and the closing prayer was offered by John M. Houk, Rev. Sam Maitland, pastor of the Greenwood M. E. church was unable to attend.

Special musical numbers were a solo by Wm. Boyer accompanied by Miss Wellhausen. This number was furnished by the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church. A male quartet consisting of Francis Weir, Billie Harbison, Rev. Johnson and George Calhoun sang two numbers. These were furnished by the Center U. P. church. A number was also rendered by the Harmony Baptist church choir.

Use Mothballs To Drive Away Deer

(International News Service)
VANCOUVER, B. C., Mar. 28.—Mothballs will rid British Columbia orchards of invading deer, which nightly raid orchards and cause much damage, J. Bryan Williams, game commissioner for British Columbia recently advised farmers.

Experiments with bags of naphthalene flakes hanging from an occasional tree proved successful. A certain percentage of deer with an imperfect sense of smell paid no attention to the mothballs.
